Disclose Clifford Ordered Retention Of Many Bombers

WASHINGTON (AP) — Before he left office, former Defense Secretary Clark M. Clifford ordered major changes in earlier plans by his predecessor, Robert S. McNamara, to phase out hundreds of nuclear bombers.

Under the revisions ordered by Clifford, who left office Monday with the rest of the Johnson administration, the Air Force will:

—Retain the 80 B58 Hustler supersonic strategic bombers which McNamara ticketed for mothballs beginning in mid-1970.

—Keep for a few years longer three older B52 squadrons, over 45 planes in all, part of 210 early B52 C through F models which McNamara planned to sideline completely by mid-1973.

—Cut approved production of the incoming swing-wing FB11 nuclear bombers from 210 to around 120. The FB11 is an offshoot of McNamara's controversial TFX design.

Pentagon sources say Gen. John P. McConnell, Air Force chief of staff, will make a case before new Secretary of Defense Melvin R. Laird on retaining a dozen or so other older B52 bomber squadrons that are destined for oblivion under the old McNamara policy.

The revisions are being greeted as good news by Air Force bomber advocates who have contended the McNamara regime was basing too much of the nation's security on unmanned long-range missiles.

The Air Force once had over 600 intercontinental range strategic bombers but is now down to 445. Hundreds of B47 medium bombers also were phased out early in the McNamara years.

"This is a victory, however minor," one Air Force officer who is familiar with the strategic bomber program, commented. "We've got our foot in the door."

In arguing for retention of the B52, Air Force officials maintained that the older C through F models should be held as a reserve conventional bombing capability for other Vietnam-type wars in the future.

The slash in planned FB11 production represents further erosion of the McNamara plan to turn out one basic plane design which could meet the needs of the services.

Rhodes Officially Presents Budget To Ohio Assembly

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — James A. Rhodes submits a record budget of $5,801,500,000 for the next two years to the Ohio General Assembly today.

The budget does not call for new or increased taxes.

But if the legislature approves the governor's program for vocational and technical education, which will cost roughly $300 million, new sources of revenue will have to be found. The vocational - technical bill will be sent to the legislature next week.

State Finance Director Howard L. Collier reviewed the 112-page budget with reporters Wednesday.

The budget calls for increased spending in education, welfare and mental health and correction. These three areas will require 93 per cent of the anticipated income from the general fund.

Ohio will spend more for public welfare than it ever has before, Collier questioned the "propriety of spending three out of every 10 dollars" for welfare, particularly in a period of full employment.

But he stressed that the state has a "clear responsibility" to see that the aged, infirm, blind and crippled receive the basic necessities.

"Obviously," Collier said, "the aid to dependent children (ADC) program is a failure."

He said the intent of ADC was to provide basic living needs while the parent, looked for work or received training but instead it "has attracted massive numbers of people who are not being trained for employment."

Collier said the budget for the next two years is "precisely balanced" because of the many uncertainties of what the actual state income will be, the international market situation and possible interest rate changes that will have a direct effect on spending.

Muskie Opens Bid For Political IOUs

DALLAS, Tex. (AP) — Sen. Edmund Muskie's coast-to-coast tour to test the political waters for a possible 1972 presidential bid has gotten a flying start in the only Southern state carried by the national Democratic ticket in last fall's election.

The Maine Democrat and losing 1968 vice presidential candidate was received with cheers and laughter at a Wednesday night dinner, the first appearance of a nationwide drive to unify the party and perhaps pick up some political credits for the future.

Warnings Issued
For 10 States
In Central U.S.

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Winter bounded back into the midcontinent today hurling a wave of Arctic cold, snow and sleet across the plains and part of the Midwest.

The return to midwinter reality ended a 10-day January thaw that had driven daytime temperatures into the 40s and 50s through much of the region.

Cold wave warnings were issued for a 10-state area from Wyoming to Texas and from Iowa to Arkansas. Travelers warnings were in effect for parts of eight states from the Canadian border to Kansas and Arkansas.

The mercury tumbled to 35 below zero at Havre, in central Montana, where the cold had stalled and intensified since last Friday.

The Weather Bureau warned of blowing and drifting snow in portions of the central plains. Skies dried over most of Southern California after several days of torrential rains and wind. Damage was estimated at $3 million in the state's southern counties and there were 47 storm-related deaths.

Fifteen homes were destroyed by floods and rockslides in the Azusa-Glendale area. More than 90 other homes were damaged in the Los Angeles suburb of Glendale as floodwaters from mountains carried muck and boulders crashing through a housing tract Wednesday.

Northern California communities which also had worried about rising floodwaters began to relax as rain-swollen rivers and streams receded.

Flood from rain and melting snow forced 100 families from their homes at Idaho Falls, Idaho.

Rain washed the Middle Atlantic states and parts of the Southeast before dawn, today—the first anniversary of the seizure of the ship by the North Koreans.

Wednesday Bucher, 41, described how he gave up the Pueblo with her guns still covered. The court recessed briefly after he told of "receiving" aboard a party of North Korean riflemen about 20 miles off Wonsan Harbor and how they prodded his crew to sitting positions on the deck.

After their return, his face tensed as he heard counsel for the Navy, Capt. William Newsome declare: "Commander Bucher it is my duty to tell you that facts revealed in this court

Senate Votes On Hickel's Nomination

Move Comes After Delays
By Opponents

BULLETIN
WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate confirmed today the controversial nomination of Gov. Walter J. Hickel of Alaska to be Secretary of the Interior.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Edmund S. Muskie of Maine says his opposition to Walter J. Hickel as interior secretary is to impress upon the Nixon administration "widespread concern on conservation policy that exists throughout the country."

Muskie, one of nine Democrats who said they would oppose confirmation when it comes to a vote today, also said he wants Nixon to be aware of the "deep concern on national fuels policy which exists in New England and Maine."

Despite the opposition, Hickel was expected to win handily before the Senate turns attention to another controversial Nixon appointment, that of David R. Packard to be deputy defense secretary.

Despite conflict of interest contentions by Sen. Albert Gore, D-Tenn., and others, resulting from Packard's $300 million worth of stock in an electronics firm which does considerable Pentagon business, he has the unanimous backing of the Senate Armed Services Committee.

Those who have announced opposition to Hickel are Muskie, George S. McGovern of South Dakota, William Proxmire and Gaylord Nelson of Wisconsin, Alan Cranston of California, Thomas J. McIntyre of New Hampshire, Vance Hartke of Indiana, Frank E. Moss of Utah and Joseph D. Tydings of Maryland.

Others, including the Majority Leader Mike Mansfield of Montana and Democratic whip Edward M. Kennedy of Massachusetts, have not announced a position yet.

Ohio Solons End Glouster Workshop

GLOUSTER, Ohio (AP)—Ohio legislators, well aware of differences between the Board of Regents and university presidents, today hurried to wind up their four-day workshop and head home.

Evaluation sessions on the seminar at nearby Burr Oak State Park were scheduled this morning. The legislative meetings will adjourn at noon.

Intended as a background session for legislators, the workshop often appeared to be a forum for attacks on proposals by the Rhodes administration.

Both House Speaker Charles F. Kurfess R-4 Bowling Green and Senate Majority Leader Theodore M. Gray R-Piqua labeled the workshop a success.

The Board of Regents had its backers on hand Wednesday. Chancellor John C. Millett said it would not be a "servant or errand boy for university presidents."

Millett said the board was an advisory group to the governor and the general assembly. He said it did not consider itself the lobbyist for the state universities.

Nixon Turns His Attention To Crisis Of U.S. Cities

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon fixed his attention today on the crisis in American cities summoning an eight-man team of Cabinet members and advisers to the first meeting of his Urban Affairs Council.

Nixon envisions that panel as the domestic counterpart of the National Security Council planning and implementing efforts to deal with big city problems.

Its first session, presumably set up as largely procedural, for the naming of staff members to conduct its day-to-day work, including sociologist Daniel P. Moynihan, assistant to the President for urban affairs.

Atty. Gen. John N. Mitchell, Secretary of Labor George P. Shultz, Secretary of Agriculture Clifford M. Hardin, Secretary of Housing and Urban Development George Romney, Secretary of Transportation John A. Volpe, and Vice President Spiro T. Agnew also will be regular council members.

A Nixon meeting Wednesday with Secretary of the Treasury David M. Kennedy produced a pledge that the new administration will contain "inherited inflationary pressures that are seriously distorting the economy and financial markets."

Kennedy said the Nixon administration will "try to get through this by taking just the steam out of the boiler, the high pressure," without disruptive economic measures which might hoist unemployment.

"We are all conscious of the risks of abrupt and blunt action that could bring unnecessary unemployment. We mean to avoid that," Kennedy said in a statement which bore Nixon's endorsement.

"But we are equally conscious of the risks of not moving decisively, because inflation is undermining both the foundation of our prosperity at home and our balance of payments position."

Presidential Election System Change Urged By Sen. Scott

WASHINGTON (AP) — Pennsylvania's Hugh Scott, No. 2 Senate Republican proposed a constitutional amendment today doing away with the present presidential election system.

Scott's proposal, which would abolish the office of presidential elector and allocate electoral votes by congressional district, went into the hopper as a Senate judiciary subcommittee opened hearings into the whole situation of electing presidents.

Called as a leadoff witness by Subcommittee chairman Birch Bayh, D-Ind., were three senators, two of them advocates of direct popular election.

Tennessee's Howard H. Baker Jr. and Oklahoma's Henry Bellmon, both Republicans, are among more than 30 sponsors of a constitutional amendment that would abolish the electoral college and replace it with a direct election system.

The third witness, Republican Peter H. Dominick, of Colorado, supports elements of two rival plans, one providing for a division of electoral votes in proportion to the popular vote and the Scott proposal.

Scott told the Senate his proposal would improve the present system and "end this problem of the disenfranchised voter by doing away with the winner-take-all method."

"It will tend to strengthen the two-party system, the real bulwark of our government, by encouraging the minority party in currently one-party states," he added.

"More importantly, it will not enhance the chances of splinter parties because they have little hope of diverting more than a few electoral votes from one major party candidate," Scott said.

His proposal came less than three weeks after the Senate agreed to accept the vote of a North Carolina GOP elector who cast his ballot for third-party presidential candidate George C. Wallace of Alabama.

Twisters Hit Mississippi; 21 Killed

HAZLEHURST, Miss. (AP)—Tornadoes ripped across central Mississippi early today, killing at least 21 persons and injuring more than 100.

The heaviest damage was reported at Hazlehurst, about 30 miles south of Jackson, where a twister cut a half-mile wide swath and left 10 persons dead and 15 to 20 homes demolished.

The Mississippi Highway Patrol said seven persons were killed by twisters in adjoining Simpson County between Mendenhall and Harrisville.

Police said a twister killed four persons in one house near White Oak, east of the Harrisville-Mendenhall area.

Hospitals at Hazlehurst and Mendenhall were reported filled and victims of the tornadoes were being sent to hospitals in Jackson.

The violent storm touched down a mile south of Hazlehurst at 6:25 a.m. CST and cut a destructive swath one mile long and one half mile wide.

The U.S. Weather Bureau issued a tornado warning for a large portion of central Mississippi and said a tornado was spotted in the Mendenhall-D'Lo area about 40 miles east-northeast of here.

Beregovoy Slightly Hurt By Glass Bits

MOSCOW (AP) — A mentally unbalanced young man fired several shots at a motorcade led by the Soviet Union's four cosmonaut heroes Wednesday, seriously injuring a chauffeur and inflicting slight wounds on cosmonaut Georgy Beregovoy, the Soviet foreign ministry said today.

The shooting took place before more than a thousand onlookers at the entrance to the Kremlin, but it was hushed up for nearly 24 hours. Official confirmation of the incident came only after newsmen asked government spokesmen for details.

A foreign ministry official said the gunman was "schizophrenic."

The attack reportedly occurred at the motorcade approached the Kremlin's Borovitsky Gate, shortly after 2 p.m. Riding in an open car at the head of the procession were the four cosmonauts being honored for their successful flights in Soyuz 4 and Soyuz 5—Vladimir Shatalov, Boris Volynov, Yevgeny Khronov and Alexei Yeliseyev.

The gunman, described as a young man, was reportedly seized by bystanders and turned over to the police.

WASHINGTON (AP) — A U.S. Army autopsy blames medical bumbling by the Viet Cong for the death of an American soldier nearly three weeks after the enemy freed him, it has been learned.

Spec. 4 James W. Brigham Jr., one of three American soldiers released by the Vietcong on an American military team on New Year's Day, died at the Army's Walter Reed General Hospital Jan. 17.

The Viet Cong radio has claimed that the 21-year-old Brigham, of Ocala, Fla., was "assassinated because the United States did not want him to tell the truth about the Vietnam war on the Negro population."

Brigham was reported to have been given head surgery for a battle wound during the three months he was held by the Viet Cong and the autopsy report indicated the operation was botched.

A summary of Brigham's case, made available by the Army, said the soldier entered the hospital Jan. 4, the day he landed here from Vietnam, and was found to be suffering from partial blindness "and a persistent draining wound from the head."

Army doctors operated on Brigham Jan. 9 and attempted to stem infection, but he died last Friday.

The post-mortem examination revealed the cause of death to be widespread infected brain tissue; second, to inefficient debridement of the wound after initial injury while the patient was still in captivity, the Army said when asked for a report.

A spokesman said "debridement" means removal of damaged and infected tissue.

Bike Gearshifts Hamper Maddox

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP)—Georgia's bicycling governor, known for his backward steering while perched on the handlebars, could have difficulty with his new 10-gear two-wheeler.

Gov. Lester Maddox was presented the bicycle with low-slung handlebars and two protruding gear shift levers by Keith Kingbay of Chicago, a representative of the League of American Wheelmen.

When asked if the new bicycle would discourage backward riding, Maddox replied: "Sure would."

Bike Gearshifts Hamper Maddox

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP) — Georgia's bicycling governor, known for his backward steering while perched on the handlebars, could have difficulty with his new 10-year two-wheeler.

Gov. Lester Maddox was presented the bicycle with low-slung handlebars and two protruding gear shift levers by Keith Kingbay of Chicago, a representative of the League of American Wheelmen.

When asked if the new bicycle would discourage backward riding, Maddox replied: "Sure would."

Pueblo Skipper May Face Court Martial

CORONADO, Calif. (AP) — A Navy court told Cmdr. Lloyd M. Bucher Wednesday that he was suspected of violating naval regulations in surrendering the intelligence ship Pueblo to the North Koreans.

The court recessed briefly after he told of "receiving" aboard a party of North Korean riflemen about 20 miles off Wonsan Harbor and how they prodded his crew to sitting positions on the deck.

After their return, his face tensed as he heard counsel for the Navy, Capt. William Newcome declare: "Commander Bucher it is my duty to tell you that facts revealed in this court of inquiry render you to be suspect of a violation of USNR Article 0730."

A court of inquiry is not a military trial, like a court-martial, but only an investigative hearing. Nevertheless Bucher's status suddenly had changed from "a party to the court" to "suspect." Shortly after the crew's release just before Christmas at least two Navy admirals had called Bucher and his men heroes.

With a Brooklyn twang, Newcome quoted regulations: "The commanding officer shall not permit his command to be searched by any person representing a foreign state nor permit any person representing a foreign state nor permit any other personnel under his command to be removed from that command by such a person, so long as he has the power to resist."

Bucher's civilian attorney, E. Miles Harvey, immediately demanded, "Commander, at the time the North Koreans first set foot on your ship did you any longer have the power to resist?"

"No, I did not," Bucher answered. "Commander Bucher remains fervent in his desire to tell this court the full details," Harvey said.

The Navy, through Wednesday, had raised these points against Bucher:

1. That he failed to comprehend fully the possibility of an attack. For example:

Q. Vice Admiral Harold G. Bowen Jr.: "Did you ever consider an attack and what you would do?"

A. Bucher: "No sir, I never considered I would ever be attacked on this mission. It never occurred to me. It never occurred to me nor did it cross my mind that I would ever be put in

Protestant Extremists Blast Cardinal In Anglican Church

LONDON (AP) — Protestant extremists repeatedly interrupted a Christian unity service Wednesday night by shouting anti-Vatican slogans during a Roman Catholic cardinal's address to 4,000 persons in St. Paul's Anglican Cathedral.

Outside the cathedral, counter demonstrators pelted Northern Ireland's leading Protestant extremist, the Rev. Ian Paisley, with eggs and tomatoes. One Irish Protestant, the Rev. Thomas Foster, was charged with "indecent behavior" under a century-old law forbidding interruption of a church service. He was one of a dozen demonstrators—most of them in clerical garb—who were ejected from the service held as part of the worldwide Week of Prayer for Christian Unity.

John Cardinal Heenan, head of the Roman Catholic hierarchy in Britain, had just been welcomed to the cathedral by the archbishop of Canterbury, Dr. Michael Ramsey, when Bible-waving extremists began shouting "no papery here!"

Ushers dashed from pew to pew, hustling demonstrators out of the church as they rose in sequence to rail against the Pope.

Cardinal Heenan, believed to be the first Roman Catholic cardinal ever to appear formally in the 17th century cathedral, won applause from many of his listeners when he said the demonstration showed "the need for the ecumenical movement."

Paisley stayed outside the cathedral and demonstrated with his supporters behind a ring of police guards.

"A great Protestant church is being desecrated by a Romanist," Paisley bellowed.

As the counterdemonstrators shouted "Paisley go home" and pelted him, he shouted: "The more of this the better. You see what kind of things papists do." Paisley flew home to Belfast early today, his coat still stained with egg yolk and tomato.

Viet Combat Toll Rises Due To Myriad Small Actions

SAIGON (AP) — The U.S. Command announced today that 196 Americans were killed in action in Vietnam last week, the highest weekly toll since mid-December.

Headquarters also reported the loss of two more U.S. Air Force fighter-bombers over South Vietnam, raising to five the number of American warplanes shot down over the South in the past three days. Five of the six crewmen aboard the five planes were rescued. The other was killed.

Spokesmen said the five losses were the heaviest three-day toll over South Vietnam in more than seven months. The latest losses raised to 335 the number of U.S. warplanes shot down in combat over South Vietnam during the war.

While American casualties moved up last week, so did those of the South Vietnamese military and the enemy.

Government headquarters announced that 292 South Vietnamese troops were killed in action during the seven-day period ending at midnight Saturday, their highest death toll in more than three months.

Enemy casualties also hit their highest mark since last November. Allied spokesmen reported 2,420 enemy troops were killed in fighting last week.

The U.S. Command said that while there have been no major actions since the first of the year, there have been hundreds of small fights that caused mounting casualties.

The lull in major ground fighting persisted today. U.S. and South Vietnamese headquarters reported sharp, short fights in scattered parts of the country and said their forces killed 97 enemy soldiers in the past 24 hours. Meanwhile, thousands of allied troops hunting down enemy supply bases uncovered at least half a dozen more big stockpiles of munitions and food. They seized more than 10 tons of munitions and 15 1/2 tons of food.

The sweeping troops seized 163,000 rounds of machine-gun and small arms ammunition, 1,500 mortar, rocket and recoilless rifle shells and 15 1/2 tons of food.

The latest finds raised to about 700 tons the total of enemy supplies allied troops have seized in the past 26 days. This includes more than one million rounds of machine gun and small arms ammunition.

Most of the munitions have been seized between Saigon and the Cambodian border and some senior U.S. officers think this has been one of the chief reasons why the Viet Cong and North Vietnamese haven't launched a new offensive against the South Vietnamese capital this winter. Traveling light on foot through the jungle, the Viet Cong must prepare their approach with stockpiles spaced along the way before they can launch any sizable offensive.

The Viet Cong kept up their nightly shelling of bases and provincial capitals while avoiding large-scale ground fighting.

Teddy Drops Hints About Plans

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Edward M. Kennedy is dropping broad hints that he may bid for the presidency in 1972—the office one brother died in and another was slain seeking.

He disguised many of the hints in humor Wednesday night at a dinner to raise money to erase the 1968 campaign deficit of his assassinated brother, Robert F. Kennedy.

But he also said of his brother, who was shot in Los Angeles just after proclaiming victory in the state's presidential primary last June 5:

"The campaign of 1968 never really ended in California because it remains with all of us."

"He often said, 'We have promises to keep.' And these are the promises which will bring all of us together so many times in the future."

For Ted Kennedy, 36, who previously has carefully avoided talk of a 1972 presidential bid, the other references to that prospect were jocular.

"My mother," he said, "called to say she had read that our new President wasn't going to use the Oval Room in the White House. She said she thought someone ought to use it."

Then, addressing some 2,500 who had paid at least $100 each to reduce the Robert Kennedy campaign deficit, he added:

"We're looking into that."

The applause was sustained, the laughter minimal. Kennedy said he had read numerous stories that there would be a Muskie-Kennedy ticket—"or maybe a Kennedy-Muskie ticket"—running for the Democratic party in 1972.

"Let me just say," he barked, "that Ed Muskie hasn't picked a vice president yet."

And after a long pause: "And neither have I."

Among his applauding listeners was former Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey, who has on occasion expressed to Kennedy the confidence that he will lead the nation one day. He was applauding loudly, too.

Although Kennedy has studiously avoided the 1972 candidacy he collected a number of valuable IOUs in the Democrats' unsuccessful 1968 campaign—a first by refusing to accept a draft for the presidential nomination, then by discreetly, during his period of mourning, campaigning via television film for Democratic congressional candidates.

The dinner was the fourth such occasion planned to help erase the estimated $3.5 million debt rolled up by Robert Kennedy in the 1968 presidential primaries. A last extravaganza has been tentatively set for Los Angeles in March.

Those who came up with $500 Wednesday night got to ride a bus to Edward Kennedy's house for a nightcap.

Even if all dinners sell out, the deficit is expected to linger at $1 million. But the Democratic National Committee has voted to chip in that much. It too, has an eye on 1972.

Red Cross Board Meets

Pickaway County Chapter of Red Cross board members met Wednesday night at chapter headquarters. Chairman Howard G. Judd presided at the regular monthly meeting.

Following reading of the minutes by secretary Lucy Goodman and treasurers report, Mrs. S. Wolford, executive secretary reported that between Dec. 11-Jan. 22, she handled 70 requests of service to military families. These included health and welfare, requests for emergency leave or extension, assistance with military forms, requests for hardship discharge or compassionate transfer, as well as grants, loans and miscellaneous inquiries and requests.

Sam Foster, chairman of the blood program for Pickaway County, related the success of the January Bloodmobile visit and questioned the process for speeding donors through their visit at the Bloodmobile.

A suggestion was made that their was a need for a public First Aid Course. The suggestion was taken under advisement.

A knitting class will soon be available through Red Cross. Mrs. Tadlock and Mrs. Opal Overly will teach knitting to anyone interested in learning and is willing to knit for Red Cross. Additional information regarding this course will be announced in the near future. Sessions are slated to begin in February.

Jo Ann List, fifteen chairman, reported that Red Cross Volunteers had maintained a full schedule at Berger Hospital as well as serving Circleville Home and Hospital and the Bloodmobile.

The meeting was concluded following brief discussions of concern by board members.

Tool-Using Ability Of Otter Under Study By OSU Prof

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The tool using ability of an otter is being studied by Dr. Ernest E.

Good of the Ohio State University Department of Zoology.

The otter, survivor of two which Dr. Good bought in 1964, is also displaying the range of other emotions through his language of grunts cries and screams.

The associate professor first saw the otter, which has no name, using a tool approach about two years ago. The animal was in a swimming pool with four-foot sides. The pool was empty, but the otter found an overturned laboratory stool pushed it to the pool wall and climbed out. Since then, Dr. Good has taught him to stack boxes in order to escape the confines of the empty pool.

"We also fixed a rope to pull open the door, connecting the inside and outside pens. He learned to do that easily. Then we put the rope through pulleys so the end was away from the door," Dr. Good said.

The latter problem almost stumped the otter. Dr. Good said at first the animal would pull on the rope to open the door, but before he could pass through, the door would close again. Then the otter found a solution: He kept the end of the rope in his mouth until he was through the door.

One of the biggest problems facing Dr. Good is how to motivate the otter. He is moody. The otter will cooperate in experiments one day and ignore them the next.

Dr. Good's student and teacher has had some traumas to speak of. He had a mate several years ago, but she died. The professor said the male otter was "pretty broken up for a while." Last spring, a female otter was brought to Columbus from Wisconsin.

"She was calm and friendly," Dr. Good recalled. "But she didn't want anything to do with our otter and was returned to Wisconsin."

Jersey City Schools Close

JERSEY CITY, N.J. (AP) — Dr. Robert Coyle, school superintendent, ordered the closing of all schools in the city today because of a teachers' strike, the second in two years over salaries.

He cited two reasons for closing the city's 30 elementary and four high schools:

—Concern for the safety of the pupils.
—State law requires all schools to run 180 days of the year, and it would create an imbalance to keep only some of them open.

Man Acquitted In Murder Case

FREMONT, Ohio (AP)—Juan G. Martinez, 22, who was charged with first-degree murder in the death of a service station attendant, was found innocent Wednesday night by a Sandusky County Common Pleas Court jury.

Martinez, of nearby Lindsey, had been in jail since the slaying last May 8 of S. Harley Todd, 67, at the gas station near Fremont.

Before the case went to the jury, Judge Robert J. Gabel ruled out a verdict of first-degree murder in the perpetration of a holdup. He said the state had failed to show that a robbery was committed or attempted.

The jurors deliberated six hours before acquitting Martinez.

Garnishment, Homestead Bills In Ohio Senate Hopper

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The Ohio Senate Wednesday received measures to end employer garnishment of wages and to provide homestead exemptions to retired persons over age 65.

During the eight-minute skeleton session the Senate also received a bill to prevent a guardian from opening his ward's safety deposit box until its contents had been audited.

Charles J. Carney D-33 Mahoning introduced the bill to amend the state's present garnishment law to exclude the wages of laborers and salaries of personnel in public or private employment.

At present, all but 30 per cent of an employee's weekly wages may be garnished.

Carney said in an interview that the easy-credit people "encourage people to go into debt" and then want the state to help them recover payment.

He charged that Ohio has the largest percentage of personal bankruptcies per capita in the nation because of the state's garnishment laws.

Ohio ranks second among the states in the number of personal bankruptcy filings. Federal statistics show that 15,899 personal bankruptcies were filed in Ohio during fiscal 1968.

"Wage garnishments are a constant source of friction in labor relations," agreed Carney, regional director for the United Steelworkers of America.

The Ohio Manufacturers' Association and the Ohio AFL-CIO, both of which have complained that Ohio's credit laws are stacked against the consumer, are working to reform the garnishment law.

Thomas R. Johnson, executive director of the OMA, earlier said that OMA members feel they should not "be used as collection agencies for creditors."

Carney, who has introduced similar legislation in past sessions, said "there will always be opposition from credit people," but that he expected his bill to pass this time "if big manufacturers, large unions and the public get behind it."

Carney also introduced a resolution to provide homestead exemptions of $5,000 for retired homeowners over 65.

The resolution would provide an exemption if the property's assessed value was not over $10,000, and if the retired owner lived there over six months of the year.

shown on television, but the shooting was not broadcast.

The source said Soviet authorities kept it quiet in order not to detract from the heroes' reputation given to the four cosmonauts.

The street where the attack reportedly occurred was packed with persons cheering the cosmonauts. As the first cars passed, the source said, the young man dashed from the crowd and fired the shots.

During the subsequent ceremony in the Kremlin Palace of Congresses, television cameras several times showed Beregovoy. He seemed relaxed, and there was no visible evidence of a cut on his neck.

During the festivities a messenger handed notes to Yuri Andropov, chairman of the KGB, the state security committee, and to Leonid I. Brezhnev, general secretary of the Communist party. They were seated, along with other officials and dignitaries, on the stage with the cosmonauts.

Later, while medals were being pinned on the cosmonauts, Andropov handed a note to Brezhnev, who read it with a serious expression.

The television commentator made no mention of this.

Friends may call at the funeral home beginning 7 p.m. Thursday.

Man Acquitted In Murder Case

FREMONT, Ohio (AP)—Juan G. Martinez, 22, who was charged with first-degree murder in the death of a service station attendant, was found innocent Wednesday night by a Sandusky County Common Pleas Court jury.

Martinez, of nearby Lindsey, had been in jail since the slaying last May 8 of S. Harley Todd, 67, at the gas station near Fremont.

Before the case went to the jury, Judge Robert J. Gabel ruled out a verdict of first-degree murder in the perpetration of a holdup. He said the state had failed to show that a robbery was committed or attempted.

The jurors deliberated six hours before acquitting Martinez.

Church Of God Slates Revival

The Church of God, 400 Nicholas Drive, will hold revival services beginning Monday and continuing through Friday.

Evangelist, A. A. Ledford of Columbus will be the speaker for the services beginning 7:30 p.m.

Teddy Drops Hints About Plans

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Edward M. Kennedy is dropping broad hints that he may bid for the presidency in 1972—the office one brother died in and another was slain seeking.

He disguised many of the hints in humor Wednesday night at a dinner to raise money to erase the 1968 campaign deficit of his assassinated brother, Robert F. Kennedy.

But he also said of his brother, who was shot in Los Angeles just after proclaiming victory in the state's presidential primary last June 5:

"The campaign of 1968 never really ended in California because it remains with all of us."

"He often said, 'We have promises to keep.' And these are the promises which will bring all of us together so many times in the future."

For Ted Kennedy, 36, who previously has carefully avoided talk of a 1972 presidential bid, the other references to that prospect were jocular.

"My mother," he said, "called to say she had read that our new President wasn't going to use the Oval Room in the White House. She said she thought someone ought to use it."

Then, addressing some 2,500 who had paid at least $100 each to reduce the Robert Kennedy campaign deficit, he added:

"We're looking into that."

The applause was sustained, the laughter minimal.

Kennedy said he had read numerous stories that there would be a Muskie-Kennedy ticket—"or maybe a Kennedy-Muskie ticket"—running for the Democratic party in 1972.

"Let me just say," he barked, "that Ed Muskie hasn't picked a vice president yet."

And after a long pause: "And neither have I."

Among his applauding listeners was former Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey, who has on occasion expressed to Kennedy the confidence that he will lead the nation one day. He was applauding loudly, too.

Although Kennedy has studiously avoided the 1972 candidacy he collected a number of valuable IOUs in the Democrats' unsuccessful 1968 campaign—first by refusing to accept a draft for the presidential nomination, then by discreetly, during his period of mourning, campaigning via television film for

Garnishment, Homestead Bills In Ohio Senate Hopper

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The Ohio Senate Wednesday received measures to end employer garnishment of wages and to provide homestead exemptions to retired persons over age 65.

During the eight-minute skeleton session the Senate also received a bill to prevent a guardian from opening his ward's safety deposit box until its contents had been audited.

Charles J. Carney D-33 Mahoning introduced the bill to amend the state's present garnishment law to exclude the wages of laborers and salaries of personnel in public or private employment.

At present, all but 30 per cent of an employee's weekly wages may be garnished.

Carney said in an interview that the easy-credit people "encourage people to go into debt" and then want the state to help them recover payment.

He charged that Ohio has the largest percentage of personal bankruptcies per capita in the nation because of the state's garnishment laws.

Ohio ranks second among the states in the number of personal bankruptcy filings. Federal statistics show that 15,899 personal bankruptcies were filed in Ohio during fiscal 1968.

"Wage garnishments are a constant source of friction in labor relations," agreed Carney, regional director for the United Steelworkers of America.

The Ohio Manufacturers' Association and the Ohio AFL-CIO, both of which have complained that Ohio's credit laws are stacked against the consumer, are working to reform the garnishment law.

Thomas R. Johnson, executive director of the OMA, earlier said that OMA members feel they should not "be used as collection agencies for creditors."

Carney, who has introduced similar legislation in past sessions, said "there will always be opposition from credit people," but that he expected his bill to pass this time "if big manufacturers, large unions and the public get behind it."

Carney also introduced a resolution to provide homestead exemptions of $5,000 for retired homeowners over 65.

The resolution would provide an exemption if the property's assessed value was not over $10,000, and if the retired owner lived there over six months of the year.

Lancaster Honors OSU Quarterback

The city of Lancaster remains the same — only the name has been changed. In honor of Rex Kern, Ohio State quarterback and a Lancaster native, the Fairfield County town has been renamed.

Signs at five highway approaches to Lancaster read, "Welcome to (Rex) KERN-TOWN, formerly Lancaster, Ohio. The signs, adorned with roses, will remain for the week which Mayor William Burt proclaimed "Rex Kern Week" in honor of the Lancaster redhead who quarterbacked the Ohio State University Buckeyes to the 1968 Big Ten Conference and national football championships.

Events have been held and more scheduled to pay tribute to Kern, who also was presented the coveted Helms Foundation Trophy, a national award, as the "Most Valuable Player" in the Jan. 1, 1969 Rose Bowl game at Pasadena, Calif., where the Buckeyes defeated Southern California 27-16.

Two Receive Probation For Assault, Battery

Circleville Municipal Court Judge Sterling Lamb placed two men on probation after finding them guilty of assault and battery.

Both men were handed $50 suspended fines. Gary Johnson, New Holland, was found guilty of a charge filed by Norman Mouser and Dale Weese, Route 2, guilty of a charge filed by Laurence Dowden.

Red Cross Board Meets

Pickaway County Chapter of Red Cross board members met Wednesday night at chapter headquarters. Chairman Howard G. Judd presided at the regular monthly meet.

Following reading of the minutes by secretary Lucy Goodman and treasurers report, Mrs. S. Wolford, executive secretary reported that between Dec. 11-Jan. 22, she handled 70 requests of service to military families. These included health and welfare, requests for emergency leave or extension, assistance with military forms, requests for hardship discharge or compassionate transfer, as well as grants, loans and miscellaneous inquiries and requests.

Sam Foster, chairman of the blood program for Pickaway County, related the success of the January Bloodmobile visit and questioned the process for speeding donors through their visit at the Bloodmobile.

A suggestion was made that their was a need for a public First Aid Course. The suggestion was taken under advisement.

A knitting class will soon be available through Red Cross. Mrs. Tadiack and Mrs. Opal Overly will teach knitting to anyone interested in learning and is willing to knit for Red Cross. Additional information regarding this course will be announced in the near future. Sessions are slated to begin in February.

Jo Ann List, sixteen chairman, reported that Red Cross Volunteers had maintained a full schedule at Berger Hospital as well as serving Circleville Home and Hospital and the Bloodmobile.

The meeting was concluded following brief discussions of concern by board members.

Dear Abby: By Abigail Van Buren

... And God's Will Shall Be Done

DEAR ABBY: I am a very religious person and believe that everything in this world happens as a result of God's plan and wishes. Am I wrong then to feel that when we fall ill, it is God's will and perhaps God is trying to punish us for some wrong-doing? That is why I never take any medicine. Why fight God's decision? If you can answer this, you are a genius.

HAS FAITH
DEAR HAS: I'm no genius, but ask yourself this: If your theory is right, why then did God give man the knowledge and power to conquer illness?

DEAR ABBY: I have been happily married to a big good-looking Irishman for six years. We have two children. Mickey is a bartender, and I have never had any objections to the hours, temptations or anything like that until lately. His boss has told him to play up to the single women who come in—greet them with a big smile, a hug, and maybe a little smooch, and keep them sitting and buying drinks.

Well, there is one old widow who comes in nearly every night and stays until they close up. She's in no shape to get home on her own so Mickey takes her home. My question: Do you think Mickey has to go THIS far in the line of duty?

MICKEY'S WIFE
DEAR WIFE: How far does he go?

DEAR ABBY: A married

male cousin of mine and his wife of some 40 odd years were visiting my husband and me for the weekend. While fully dressed and preparing breakfast, this married male cousin of mine came up behind me and surprised me with a kiss. No hug. Just a kiss.

I didn't think a thing of it, but after they had departed, my husband told me he saw "the whole thing." Then he became enraged because I hadn't thrown my cousin out of the house. He even said I must have encouraged my cousin and probably had further relations with him.

I assure you no such thoughts crossed my mind. Three years later my husband is still making nasty insinuations and accusations, and I am sick to death of hearing about it. What is your opinion of all this? We are all between 65 and 70 years of age, and the "kisser" is now dead. Thank you.

UNHAPPY
DEAR UNHAPPY: Don't be too hard on your husband on the chance that he is getting a bit addled in his old age. But when he starts with the ugly accusations, let him talk to himself.

CONFIDENTIAL TO "C.K.": It's useless to tell a grown daughter, "If you ever get into any trouble, come to me first." For if the proper relationship has been built over the years, she will. If it hasn't, the words will be meaningless.

Mickey is a bartender, and I have never had any objections to the hours, temptations or anything like that until lately. His boss has told him to play up to the single women who come in—greet them with a big smile, a hug, and maybe a little smooch, and keep them sitting and buying drinks.

Well, there is one old widow who comes in nearly every night and stays until they close up. She's in no shape to get home on her own so Mickey takes her home. My question: Do you think Mickey has to go THIS far in the line of duty?

MICKEY'S WIFE
DEAR WIFE: How far does he go?

DEAR ABBY: A married

male cousin of mine and his wife of some 40 odd years were visiting my husband and me for the weekend. While fully dressed and preparing breakfast, this married male cousin of mine came up behind me and surprised me with a kiss. No hug. Just a kiss.

I didn't think a thing of it, but after they had departed, my husband told me he saw "the whole thing." Then he became enraged because I hadn't thrown my cousin out of the house. He even said I must have encouraged my cousin and probably had further relations with him.

I assure you no such thoughts crossed my mind. Three years later my husband is still making nasty insinuations and accusations, and I am sick to death of hearing about it. What is your opinion of all this? We are all between 65 and 70 years of age, and the "kisser" is now dead. Thank you.

UNHAPPY
DEAR UNHAPPY: Don't be too hard on your husband on the chance that he is getting a bit added in his old age. But when he starts with the ugly accusations, let him talk to himself.

CONFIDENTIAL TO "C.K.": It's useless to tell a grown daughter, "If you ever get into any trouble, come to me first." For if the proper relationship has been built over the years, she will. If it hasn't, the words will be meaningless.

According To Boyle

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) — In an abnormal time, it is the desire of most people over 25 years of age to be normal.

They aspire to a pattern of life in which they will think, dream and act within limits that satisfy themselves and yet also make them acceptable to their friends and neighbors.

How can you tell if you have reached your goal? What standards of conformity or nonconformity do you apply?

Admittedly it is a difficult thing to measure. But here is a ready-made guide that may be of help. Simply ask yourself these questions:

When trouble comes your way, do you invariably admit it was your fault, confess your mistakes, and manfully shoulder the blame?

During the football season, if the wife or kids want to switch to something besides a gridiron game, do you accede to their wishes because you believe that in a well-run family every member has equal rights?

Can you give up a bad habit — such as smoking, drinking or eating jumbo sandwiches after midnight—for three months without a single relapse?

Do you always tell the truth in every situation. In other words are you the kind of character they used to describe in the Old West by saying: "His word's as good as his bond?"

If someone tells you that a new best-selling novel is terribly, terribly naughty, does that reinforce your determination not to read it, since you are against filthy literature?

Suppose you were already 15 minutes late to an appointment on a rainy day, and had a 10-yard head start on an old lady racing to get the only cab visible for blocks. On reaching the cab door, would you gallantly hold it open for the slow-footed beldame and try to find another cab for yourself in the pelting rain?

How about your tax bills, buddy? Have you always leaned over backward in dealing with Uncle Sam? Have you never fudged on a report to him even a teensy-weensy bit?

Well, as Gov. Al Smith of New York, used to say, "Now let's look at the record."

If you answered each of these queries with a guilty "no," quit worrying. You're too normal ever to need a headshrinker.

But if to each of them your answer was an invariable "yes," you have a problem. You are clearly out of the usual norms of normality.

TODAY In History

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Today is Thursday, Jan. 23, the 23rd day of 1969. There are 342 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history: On this date in 1799, French forces captured the Italian city of Naples.

On this date: In 1668, England, the Netherlands and Sweden formed the Triple Alliance to check Louis XIV of France.

In 1845, the U.S. Congress ruled that all national elections would take place on the first Tuesday after the first Monday in November.

In 1909, radio was first used to save lives at sea. A distress signal brought help when the SS Republic rammed and sank the SS Florida off the New England coast.

In 1920, the Dutch government refused to surrender ex-Kaiser Wilhelm of Germany to the allies for punishment as a war criminal.

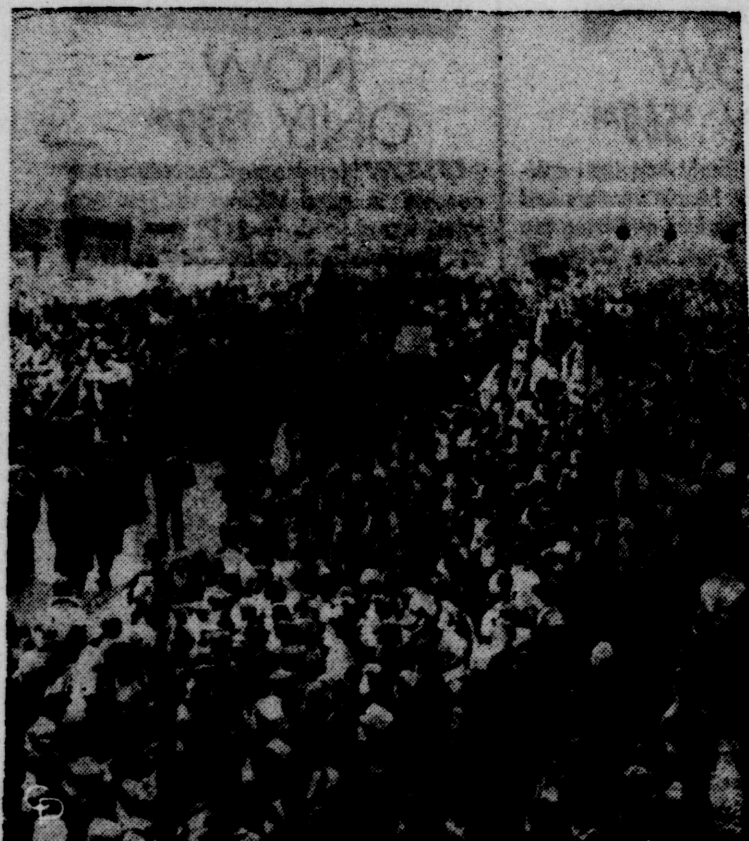

In 1937, in Moscow, 17 Communist leaders confessed they had conspired with Leon Trotsky to undermine the Soviet regime of Joseph Stalin.

In 1943, British troops entered the North African port of Tripoli during World War II.

Ten years ago: Soviet nuclear scientists announced they had begun capacity operation of what was then the world's biggest atom smasher.

Five years ago: The 24th Amendment to the U.S. Constitution eliminating the poll tax in federal elections was ratified.

One year ago: North Korea seized the U.S. Navy ship Pueblo and held the 83 crewmen as spies.

Movie On Astronauts

By BOB THOMAS

AP Television-Movie Writer

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Supposing something on the Apollo 8 mission had gone awry and moonmen Anders, Borman and Lovell hadn't been able to return to earth.

That chilling possibility is the subject of a new movie called "Marooned," produced by J. J. Frankovich and directed by John Sturges, an expert in adventure ("The Great Escape," "Ice Station Zebra"). The scope of the Columbia film is so immense that it is being shot on MGM stages, the biggest in Hollywood.

Sturges describes the situation:

"Three astronauts have been working in a manned space lab for about six months. Their physiological and psychological systems begin to deteriorate, so it seems prudent to return them to earth. But the routine firing to send them back fails, and they are marooned in space.

"The picture describes what happens in the 72 hours that are left for the astronauts. A rescue craft is sent to save them.

Sturges was directing a scene that seemed terrifically real. Actors Jim Franciscus and Gene Hackman were floating uncontrollably in their derelict space capsule, the weightless illusion provided by camera booms which they straddled out of camera range.

The third member of the space team, Richard Crenna, was missing. Sturges explained that Crenna had been zapped by the Hong Kong flu, and added darkly: "We lose him on the trip."

The trio never meet their costar, Gregory Peck, who directs the rescue operation from the ground. Nor do they have any direct contact with David Janssen, who pilots the rescue craft.

During the lunch break director Sturges escorted a visitor to another stage which was filled with things to delight the heart of any space nut. The place had everything from a three-foot Russian space capsule. Yes, the Russians get into the act, too—to a full-size replica of the Apollo 8.

Try and Stop Me

By BENNETT CERF

UNCLE HENRY came home from seeing his favorite nephew off on the United States with his hair matted and his clothes hopelessly disarranged. "There was a terrible crush at the dock," he explained. "Everybody pushing and shoving! Suddenly they started yelling, 'Man overboard!' I looked around—and my God, it was me!"

Earl Warren recalls the time years ago when he was running for district attorney in California and was invited to present his views with all the other candidates at a special meeting. The candidates were called upon alphabetically, unfortunately, and as soon as they had made their pitch, not only they but their adherents vacated the premises just as fast as their little feet could carry them. By the time they got around to Earl Warren there was just one man left in the audience, and he explained hastily, "My name is Young, Mr. Warren, and they invited me here in error. I'm running for corner!"

Speaking Of Your Health

By Lester L. Coleman, M.D.

Is it possible to have a family tendency to form cysts and stones in the body? Both my mother and I have had stones in the gall bladder and cysts of the ovaries.

Mrs. N.I., Pa. Dear Mrs. I.: I doubt that there is any hereditary tendency to the formation of either of the conditions that you and your mother had. Patients frequently say that their particular trouble seems to be on one side and question the possibility of some inherent weakness. This is not true and is simply a coincidence.

Cysts are pouches which contain fluid or semisolid material. They occur in all parts of the body and in many instances are due to a blockage of the tiny tube that leads from the cyst, resulting in accumulation of material. Cysts can occur in almost every organ of the body and are almost always non-cancerous. When they grow to a very large size and put pressure on neighboring organs, they are removed even though they are benign.

The tendency to form stones is probably unrelated to any genetic background. Since diet plays an important role in the formation of stones, especially in the gall bladder, there may be instances of this condition in members of the same family who usually eat the same foods. It is estimated that more than 30 per cent of all women develop stones in the gall bladder, many of which lie dormant and produce no symptoms. I don't know why I find it difficult to resist the pun of "cysts and stones, etc."

Does blood really get worn out? When is it necessary to take tonics if a family is eating three normal, healthy meals a day?

Mr. D.S., Wyoming Dear Mr. S.: I must confess that I do not know what is really meant by worn out, broken down, decrepit blood. I've never seen it under a microscope and honestly do not believe it exists. When red blood cells have exhausted their function, they go to the hallowed burial ground in the liver and spleen and there, like the phoenix, rise up from the ashes and help build healthy blood again.

Healthy red blood cells are manufactured in the spleen and the bone marrow and the rate at which they are produced depends on body needs and special requirements. Following injury, infection, or blood loss, the wonderful machinery of the body grinds out the red cells to fulfill those needs.

Expensive vitamin and mineral supplements are never necessary unless there are specific diseases which demand them. If there were pernicious anemia, scurvy, or beri-beri, doctors would suggest definite massive doses of vitamins. In the absence of known deficiencies, I believe that the elderly, the infirm, and young, growing children benefit from good, inexpensive vitamins in addition to a nourishing diet. I emphasize, inexpensive, because millions of dollars a year are spent unnecessarily by people who can least afford it, on excess vitamins.

A good place to convalesce after an illness is in your own home.

Dear Editor: First of all I want to correct a rumor that my husband was given the wrong type blood at Berger Hospital. Nothing could be further from the truth. The wrong type blood was sent but it was not used.

Secondly we have nothing but the highest praise for Dr. Anderson, Dr. Alvarez, all the nurses, nurses aids and all who helped in any way care for Ralph. No one could have received better care than he did and we are very grateful. We have a fine little hospital, devoted doctors and nurses and we certainly have cause to be thankful for them.

Ignatius Gets Job

WASHINGTON (AP) — Paul R. Ignatius, secretary of the Navy in the Johnson administration, has been named president of the Washington Post, only morning newspaper in the nation's capital.

The Business World

By LISA CRONIN (For John Cunliff)

NEW YORK (AP) — One mistake that President Nixon is perhaps less likely to make than his predecessors is to permit confusion in his communications with business.

He has at least two major factors in his favor: first, his Cabinet appointees are thoroughly familiar with business affairs; second, he can profit from the experiences of Presidents Lyndon B. Johnson and John F. Kennedy.

There are indications that Nixon will be expecting a lot from business, especially in helping to solve the critical social ills of the nation. He subscribes to the new concept of business that sees its role not simply as a moneymaker but as a social catalyst as well.

Harassed by problems of education, urban blight, pollution and integration, government increasingly is soliciting the aid of businessmen, with their skills in problem solving and management.

But the new relationship of business and government may bring conflict also.

President Kennedy learned this in 1962, when his attempts at dampening inflation threats were, it seems, misunderstood by Roger M. Blough, the head of U. S. Steel.

After having prodded labor into what he thought was a non-inflationary wage agreement, Kennedy felt certain that U.S. Steel would not feel a price increase necessary. He figured incorrectly. Blough felt pricing was his domain.

Kennedy quickly recanted. Knowing that he could not accomplish his goals without the support of the business community, he set about making amends.

Investment tax credits and recommendations for a tax cut followed and by November of 1963 Kennedy had regained much of the lost confidence of businessmen.

Johnson also had his troubles, partly for the same reason. He too believed that business should cooperate in a larger plan of things. He tried to bring businessmen closer to government. He solicited their cooperation.

The manner in which he did so, however, created some distrust. Perhaps businessmen are Bible readers, for their fear of the familiar Johnson entreaty, "Come, let us reason together," suggested they knew the rest of the passage.

It follows, from the Book of Isaiah:

"Come now, let us reason together, says the Lord: though your sins are like scarlet, they shall be as white as snow; though they are red like crimson, they shall become like wool.

"If you are willing and obedient, you shall eat the good of the land; but if you refuse and rebel, you shall be devoured by the sword; for the mouth of the Lord has spoken."

Regardless of the individuals involved, the fact is that business and government are being forced into alliances today, for neither can do alone what each knows must be done in rebuilding society.

Pollution Is Chief Concern

By JOHN CHAMBERLAIN

Since the cause of conservation ordinarily transcends private initiative, conservatives, who naturally distrust government, have never come up with any satisfactory thinking about "environmental affairs." Yet for a good philosophical position on conservation matters they might cite no less an authority than Adam Smith, whose "The Wealth of Nations" is the conservative economic Bible. Even though he believed in keeping the State out of business affairs, Smith held that the provision of "cleanliness and safety" was a legitimate police function of the State. He said so in no uncertain terms, and the vast majority of the conservatives may properly be faulted for paying so little attention to what Professor Friedrich von Hayek, one of Adam Smith's more subtle disciples, has called the perniciousness of "neighborhood effects."

Fortunately, President Richard Nixon seems to hold to the Smith-Hayek view of the State's duty to provide both cleanliness and safety. He has in his possession the report on "Resources and Environment" drawn up by a twenty-member task force under the direction of Russell E. Train, president of the Conservation Foundation. The report urges that "improved environmental management" be made a chief concern of the new Administration. It specifies the need to stop the poisoning of our lakes and rivers, the pollution of our air ... the progressive deterioration of the organic fertility of our soils, the pesticides and other chemicals that permeate our living environment ... Mr. Train's group does not suggest "mammoth new programs"; it thinks the real job is to make "existing programs work."

To dramatize concern for ridding our nation of pernicious "neighborhood effects," the Train report does come up with one suggestion that is absolutely new: it would have Nixon name a Special Assistant for Environmental Affairs, sitting side by side in the White House with urbanologist Pat Moynihan and foreign policy specialist Henry Kissinger. This is a splendid idea, and I think I know just the man for the job. He is Julian Feiss, a Cleveland lawyer with a long experience in both private industry and government, currently detached by the U.S. Geological Survey to work for the Assistant Secretary of Minerals and Fuels in the Department of the Interior.

Feiss began as a mining engineer, and spent much of his early life in Africa. He has a special faculty for finding out practically everything about any environment he happens to be in. The library he collected on Africa became so voluminous that he had to present it to his alma mater, Princeton, just to make room in his house for other books on other environments that have claimed his attention. Dr. Feiss did strategic services work for the government during World War II, stayed on in Washington with the Department of the Interior, left to become one of the Kennecott Copper Company's more valued men during the Fifties, and, instead of retiring when he might have done so, returned to work for government again in the Sixties just to keep busy in congenial surroundings.

When he was a Princeton undergraduate his classmates called him Aristotle Feiss. His special knowledge is mines; just recently he has been working on mine safety matters in connection with the explosion that forced the sealing of seventy-eight men in a permanent underground tomb in Mammington, West Virginia. But if you ask Julia Feiss about any ecological matter he can give you detailed information about it quite off the top of his head.

I remember talking with him recently about the sad condition of Lake Erie; what was really captivating about the conversation was the way he went on to describe why Lake Ontario was so much less of a problem than Erie. He knew how the sewage disposal provisions of the Canadian cities of Guelph, Hamilton, and Toronto differed from those of Toledo and Cleveland, and why Ontario's pebbly bottom is less hospitable than Erie's mucky floor to vegetation that takes oxygen away from the fish. Another conversation concerned the pollution of what H. I. Mencken once termed "the great protein factory of Chesapeake Bay"; Dr. Feiss came out with a fascinating correlation between the consumption of Chesapeake oysters and the incidence of hepatitis in the Maryland region.

This is the kind of mind you need for White House Special Assistant for Environmental Affairs. A mind that knows the map of ecological trouble without having to wait three months for relevant research.

The management of a London art gallery reports that thieves who broke into the place stole the nine worst paintings on exhibit there. Made off with the whole smear, as it were?

Judging by the troubles which developed on the shake-down cruise of the brand-new liner Queen Elizabeth II the trip would seem to have been more of a shakeup voyage.

The London Zoo now claims it has a hippopotamus that weighs 8,600 pounds. It should be the animal park's biggest attraction.

A British road safety official says mini-skirts can be a life saver at night because auto lights more readily reveal the legs of girls wearing the brief garments. Legs always were a sight to see — for men.

The only type of calendar reform that would be universally popular would be if January could be given the same kind of weather as June.

The American half dollar is one of the handsomest coins, says artists. Sure is — at least 50 times better looking than a penny!

When he was a Princeton undergraduate his classmates called him Aristotle Feiss. His special knowledge is mines; just recently he has been working on mine safety matters in connection with the explosion that forced the sealing of seventy-eight men in a permanent underground tomb in Mammington, West Virginia. Teachers Picket In California

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Some 2,000 members of a teachers union were assigned to picket duty in a one day strike Wednesday designed to disrupt California's sprawling state college system, the largest in the nation.

Pickets were set at 13 of the 19 state college campuses in the scattered statewide educational plant, where 11,000 teachers instruct 125,000 students.

The striking union, the American Federation of Teachers AFL-CIO, is protesting the firing of 28 teachers at San Jose State College involved in a dispute over working conditions and a minorities studies program.

Police Test Gun Sounds

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP) — Police fired six test shots Wednesday in the home of Euclid Municipal Judge Robert L. Steele as they continued their investigation into the Jan. 9 slaying of his wife, Marlene.

She was shot to death with a .38-caliber revolver in an upstairs bedroom.

The six test shots were fired with a .38-caliber police special weapon, four normally and two with a silencer on the gun's muzzle. The bullets were fired into a test canister filled with waste material.

Police used sound - testing equipment to register the noise made by the firings but would not comment on the results.

Judge Steele, who found his wife's body, has said the sounds he heard the night of the killing were "pop, pop." He said he was in his sons' bedroom at the time.

Pupils Win Fight To Save School

NEW LENOX, Ill. (AP) — In an age of student revolts, a band of hardy pupils has succeeded in raising enough money to keep their high school operating for at least three more years.

The 557 pupils at a Roman Catholic high school in New Lenox, a town of 2,400 in northern Illinois, have raised nearly $30,000 in cash and pledged all the money is still rolling in.

Providence High School was about to be closed because of a huge budget deficit and a shortage of teachers before the pupils and their parents went to work.

Now the school is assured of staying in operation for at least three to five years.

Bishop Romeo Blanchette of the Joliet Roman Catholic Diocese has announced that the effort had paid off and that the school will remain open.

"I decided that the pastoral aspects were such as to swing the balance, and the financial problem and lack of personnel could be solved if put to the challenge of the people," the bishop said.

Jean Clemens, 18, editor of the high school newspaper, was crestfallen as the school's board of directors voted to close the school last week—but then the bishop's letter was opened and read, decreeing that the school would remain open.

"I just stood there and thought, 'This is the end,'" she said.

"But I thought a miracle might happen, and I guess you might say it did."

The miracle was helped along with some old-fashioned elbow grease in a pupil-power effort to wipe out Providence's 1968-69 school year deficit of $90,000.

They sponsored a New Year's Eve dance. The pupils also worked up a style show and a dinner dance. Money came in from car washing and a spaghetti dinner.

The mothers began running the school cafeteria to save wages normally paid to cooks and waitresses and dishwashers.

The fathers organized to contact persons for pledges. Unsolicited donations rolled in, many of them from persons who were not Catholics. Some contributions were as much as $1,000.

An Associated Press dispatch which was displayed across the country brought donations from Walnut Creek, Calif., to Oshkosh, Wis., to South Orange, N.J., to Fairmount, Tenn.

"We hear so much nowadays about students trying to demolish their schools and the efforts of Providence High were most refreshing and encouraging," wrote a woman from Walnut Creek, Calif., along with her donation.

Police, Firemen To Be Laid Off

ELYRIA, Ohio (AP)—Mayor Leonard P. Reichlin says some of Elyria's policemen and firemen will be laid off because the city cannot afford to pay them.

A proposed one per cent income tax was turned down by city voters in a special election Tuesday. Part of the $1.6 million annually the tax would have brought in was to have been used to make up the deficit caused by a 15 per cent pay raise given the safety forces last year, give them another 15 per cent raise and bring their numbers to authorized strength.

Police Test Gun Sounds

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP) — Police fired six test shots Wednesday in the home of Euclid Municipal Judge Robert L. Steele as they continued their investigation into the Jan. 9 slaying of his wife, Marlene. She was shot to death with a .38-caliber revolver in an upstairs bedroom.

The six test shots were fired with a .38-caliber police special weapon, four normally and two with a silencer on the gun's muzzle. The bullets were fired into a test canister filled with waste material. Police used sound-testing equipment to register the noise made by the firings but would not comment on the results. Judge Steele, who found his wife's body, has said the sounds he heard the night of the killing were "pop, pop." He said he was in his sons' bedroom at the time.

Pupils Win Fight To Save School

NEW LENOX, Ill. (AP) — In an age of student revolts, a band of hardy pupils has succeeded in raising enough money to keep their high school operating for at least three more years.

The 557 pupils at a Roman Catholic high school in New Lenox, a town of 2,400 in northern Illinois, have raised nearly $30,000 in cash and pledged all the money is still rolling in.

Providence High School was about to be closed because of a huge budget deficit and a shortage of teachers before the pupils and their parents went to work.

Easter Seal Society Scholarships Available

The Ohio Society for Crippled Children and Adults (the Easter Seal Society) has announced the availability of annual scholarships provided by national women's fraternity and sorority groups which support the Society as a philanthropic project through continuing educational grants for specialized and advanced training in physical and occupational therapy, speech pathology and audiology.

To help meet the growing need for trained physical and occupational therapists, Kappa Delta Phi sorority will award a limited number of supplemental aid scholarships for students in those fields for the academic year of 1969.

In addition, Alpha Chi Omega, national women's fraternity, has made available a limited number of supplemental aid scholarships for qualified master's degree candidates in the field of speech pathology and audiology.

To qualify for these scholarships, applicants must be U.S. citizens who are enrolled or accepted in a certificate course or in the senior year or clinical training period of a degree course in physical or occupational therapy at a school approved for training by the Council on Medical Education of the American Medical Association; or accepted in a program of speech pathology and audiology in a school approved by the American Speech and Hearing Assn.

Both categories of the scholarships require a letter stating the reasons for interest in pursuing the chosen career; a letter of acceptance from the school the applicant plans to attend; and transcripts of all preliminary training above the high school level with professional references.

Selection for scholarship recipients will be made on a competitive basis by a scholarship committee, with consideration given to scholastic achievement, financial need, references and letters of application.

Application forms are available from the Scholarship Coordinator, National Easter Seal Society for Crippled Children and Adults, 2023 West Ogden Ave., Chicago, Illinois 60612. The completed application forms for the physical and occupational therapy scholarships and all supplemental material must be received by May 15 in order to receive consideration by the review committee, and applications for speech and audiology supplemental grants will be received until July 15.

Boys Chorus Sings During DAR Meeting

Pickaway Plains Chapter of Daughters of the American Revolution met Tuesday in the parlor of Trinity Lutheran Church.

Miss Florence Brown, regent, opened the meeting in ritualistic form assisted by Mrs. Henry Barthomew, chaplain. The pledge to the flag was led by Miss Martha Hitler. Members sang "The Star Spangled Banner" accompanied by Mrs. Martin Cromley.

Miss Florence Decker read a message from the president, general. Miss Jane Watt and Mrs. Stanley Bowers presented reports, and Mrs. Clarence McAbee read correspondence.

For national defense, Mrs. Stanley Bowers read an article on the electoral college.

The chapter observed a moment of silent prayer for a deceased member, Mrs. Wanda Gearhart.

Mrs. Martin Cromley introduced John Ridson, musical director of the Logan Elm School, who presented his chorus of 10 boys singing, "A Mighty Fortress," "Going Out Of My Head" and a spiritual, "Ride The Chariot."

Harold Hewitt, Pickaway County Director of the YMCA, was speaker for the afternoon. His subject was the founding and functioning of the organization.

Refreshments were served by Mrs. Christian Schwarz, Mrs. James Moffitt, Mrs. Walter Kindler, Mrs. Henry Mader, Mrs. Clarence Hott, Mrs. George Wright, Mrs. Eliot Miller, Miss Mary Heffner, Mrs. Edred Cayce, Mrs. Dan Eitel, Miss Martha Warner, Mrs. Sterling Poling, Miss Martha Hitler and Mrs. Emerson Downing.

decorated with a wedding cake, baked and decorated by Mrs. Edward Kuhlwein. Vases of yellow mums and lighted tapers were used on all the tables.

Mrs. Ralph Fisher presented a program for the 99 persons honoring the two couples. Her theme was "Your Golden Years."

Harold Bumgarner, worthy master gave a welcome to the celebrants and guests and presented the honored couples with pots of mums from the Grange.

Mrs. Harold Bumgarner, chaplain, lit the anniversary candles and presented the reading "God Bless Your Golden Wedding Day."

Mrs. Fisher introduced the Metta Larks who sang several selections. Mr. and Mrs. Chester Faunaugh gave a short skit entitled "Fifty Years." Jeff Swackhammer a step-grandson of Mr. and Mrs. Hoover, sang "Born Free" accompanied by Paul Dunkle, a music teacher in the Circleville city schools and Pickaway County Grange Deputy.

Mrs. Kuhlwein read an original poem, "True Love." Mrs. H. O. Caldwell presented "How To Preserve A Husband For Fifty Years." Mr. and Mrs. Caldwell celebrated their anniversary in June of 1967.

Rev. William Sherertz, minister of the Ashville Methodist Church and Rev. G. F. Peters of the Methodist Church in Mason, both spoke briefly of the occasion. Rev. Peters is a son-in-law of Mr. and Mrs. Courtright.

The honored couples introduced the members of their families and expressed appreciation to the Grange for the honor bestowed on them with the dinner and entertainment.

Mrs. Fisher announced that this was Mrs. Hoover's Birthday and the Metta Larks led the group in singing Happy Birthday to her.

Czech Exiles Return Home

PRAGUE (AP) — Two of Czechoslovakia's leading reformers returned from self-exile Wednesday night, but both told friends abroad their stay would be temporary.

Meanwhile, hunger strikes to support the demands of Jan Palach, the student who burned himself to death, continued in several cities.

There have been three other self-burnings—none of them fatal—since Palach's immolation last Thursday, but official reports said all three persons had suicidal tendencies. Some students said the acts cheapened Palach's sacrifice.

One of the men who returned was Ota Sik, a former deputy premier who developed plans for economic ties with the West before the Soviet invasion last August. He had been living in Switzerland.

The other was Eduard Goldstuecker, Jewish president of the Czech Writers' Union and one of those named to a new Communist party presidium

Funeral services were held last Wednesday in Lancaster for Cecil T. Hanes, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Hanes of Route 1, Laurelville. Mr. Hanes, who died in Doctor's Hospital on Sunday, had been ill for some time. Besides his parents he is survived by his wife, three children, a brother, Charles Jr. of Circleville, and two sisters, Mrs. John Sorenson of Columbus and Mary Virginia of Laurelville. Burial was made in Forest Rose cemetery by the Sheridan Funeral home.

Paul Armstrong underwent major surgery in Berger Hospital last Monday.

Mrs. J. M. Boeher of Hallsboro, who was a patient in Chillicothe Hospital for about eight weeks, was brought to her home on Thursday.

Czech Exiles Return Home

PRAGUE (AP) — Two of Czechoslovakia's leading reformers returned from self-exile Wednesday night, but both told friends abroad their stay would be temporary.

Meanwhile, hunger strikes to support the demands of Jan Palach, the student who burned himself to death, continued in several cities.

There have been three other self-burnings—none of them fatal—since Palach's immolation last Thursday, but official reports said all three persons had suicidal tendencies. Some students said the acts cheapened Palach's sacrifice.

One of the men who returned was Ota Sik, a former deputy premier who developed plans for economic ties with the West before the Soviet invasion last August. He had been living in Switzerland.

The other was Eduard Goldstuecker, Jewish president of the Czech Writers' Union and one of those named to a new Communist party presidium.

Northern Ireland's Leader Faces More Turbulence

By COLIN FROST
Associated Press Writer

BELFAST, Northern Ireland (AP) — Terence Marne O'Neill, the reformer in the hot seat of Irish politics, is a seasoned soldier at the center of a battle he detests.

This is his sixth year as prime minister of the six counties that make up Northern Ireland. It promises to be as turbulent as any in the country's troubled history.

Despite the appeals of church and political leaders, the old divisions of Catholic and Protestant once more are stirring the 1½ million people.

O'Neill, 54, bases his hope for betterment on the middle ground of men of both religions interested in civic peace.

They are, he says, the great majority. But in Ireland, where prejudice is easily fanned by extremists of both religions, and political agitators of none, the road to conciliation is hard.

O'Neill is leader of the predominantly Protestant Unionist party which has ruled in Northern Ireland without a break since the province was formed in 1921.

The party is dedicated above all to maintaining Northern Ireland's union with Britain and to fighting off those who seek union with the largely Catholic republic to the south.

The Unionists are allied to the British Conservative party. Unlike the Conservative party, they draw their main voting strength from the working class.

SOCIAL SECRETARY — Lucy Alexander Winchester (above) of Lexington, Ky., was named White House social secretary by Mrs. Nixon.

The Catholic-oriented civil rights movement is stepping up demands for reform in local government systems which it says discriminate against the Roman Catholic minority.

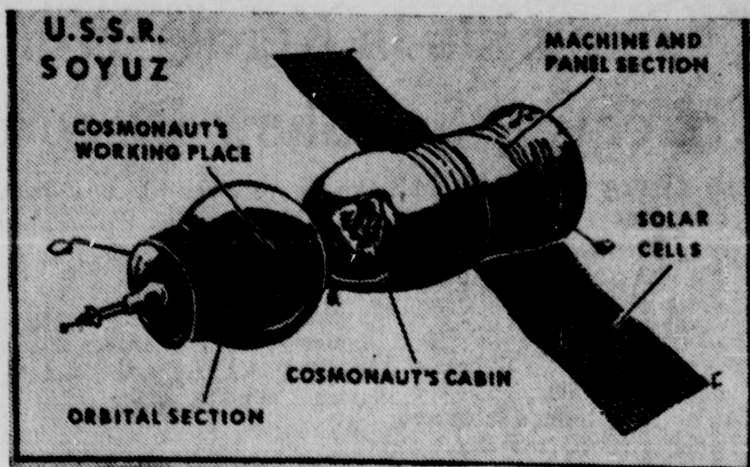

Protestant extremists denounce any concession to the Catholics as weakness and treachery. People stand ready for riot every weekend and Britain's Labor government, which retains a supervisory voice in Northern Irish affairs, is pressing for evidence that promised reforms are on the way.

O'Neill, at the center of the whirlpool, is an English-educated aristocrat.

He once served as minister of finance, an experience which underlined for him how much Northern Ireland's living standards depend on the millions of pounds poured in by the British.

Communists In Kerala Want Takeover, But Show Discord

By JAMES M. MARKHAM
Associated Press Writer
TRIVANDRUM, Kerala (AP) — This poor man's tropical paradise is where India's Communist revolution is supposed to begin.

The ingredients are impressive: Kerala, India's most overcrowded and literate state, has a vast, restless pool of educated unemployed and great numbers of impoverished agricultural laborers—seemingly a complete Maoist prescription for revolution.

The would-be maestro of all this combustible material is a short, self-effacing Brahmin gentleman, with kindly manners and a formidable stammer. The state's capitalists and landlords consider him an embodied threat to their industries and plantations—and even their lives.

But these "class enemies" are the first to volunteer that E.M.S. Namboodiripad, Kerala's Communist chief minister, is the state's most incorruptible politician.

These days, however, Namboodiripad, 58, is preoccupied with keeping his job as the head of a heterogeneous seven-party coalition government.

The central government in New Delhi kicked Namboodiripad out of the same job in 1959, claiming that law and order had collapsed in Kerala. New Delhi prevented him from assuming it again in 1965—by jailing Namboodiripad and several dozen of his colleagues as "Chinese agents."

Today, there is steady pressure from extremist elements in and around Namboodiripad's Marxist Communist party to expose the "sham" of parliamentary democracy and take to more inspiring forms of revolutionary struggle.

Namboodiripad knows that if he is thrown out again his party might split over the issue of contesting any more elections.

"It will be easier to convince the people that these elections are fake," a young Namboodiripad aid mused, considering what might happen if New Delhi intervened a third time.

Kerala's finances are in a shambles. When Namboodiripad's government took over in April 1967 it had a comfortable surplus of $24 million in rupees.

Thanks in part to massive increases in administrative staff,

Man Sought For Slaying, Fire-Bombing

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP) — A 23-year-old Cleveland man already under indictment for stabbing a lawyer at the Cuyahoga County Democratic party's steer roast last September is being sought on a first-degree murder warrant in another stabbing.

Police identified the man Wednesday as Darryl C. Payne and said they also want to question him about the fire-bombings of a church and two vacant stores on the East Side last Sept. 12.

Payne is accused of the stabbing death of 68-year-old William T. Davis. Police said they believe Davis was killed because he witnessed the fire-bombings.

Payne skipped $1,000 bond Dec. 4, failing to appear in court on a charge of stabbing with intent to kill William McWilliam, 41, a Cleveland lawyer. McWilliam was stabbed in the back with a butcher knife at the Democrats annual steer roast Sept. 22 at Euclid Beach Park.

Two teen-agers also are being held in the Davis slaying. One, 17, is being held as a delinquent in county jail. The other 19, is being held for questioning. He was picked up Wednesday shortly after being released from the Warrensville Workhouse, where he served time on another offense.

The fire bombings about which police want to question Payne caused a total of $12,000 damage, including $10,000 to St. Mark Presbyterian Church.

LBJ School Of Politics Set To Open Its Doors In 1970

By RICK SCOTT
AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — The goal of the Lyndon Baines Johnson School of Public Affairs is "a generally responsible education for persons entering all phases of public service."

That's the description by Dr. William S. Livingston, who has been immersed in the massive problems facing the developer of a new institution for a year. The school opens in early 1970 at the University of Texas.

For all his work, Livingston has not found a dean to head the school and he says his views are just that—his own personal views.

The school should not be open to just any graduate, Livingston declared in an interview.

"I think the admission requirements should be very high right from the start," he said. "We should work to have a first-rank institution from the outset."

What will be former President Johnson's role?

He has made no firm statement on his teaching aims at the school. But Livingston is optimistic about the amount of time Johnson will spend in the classrooms.

Johnson has said he will not be a professor in the full sense of the word.

"He doesn't plan to get up and meet a class at 8 o'clock every morning," said Livingston.

The goal of all this, says Livingston, will be "a generally responsible education for persons entering all phases of public service," though "not merely to produce more civil service people."

Livingston is quick to point out that the school is not the first of its kind. But he says that too many others have become narrow in their approach to producing a well-rounded student of public service.

"We don't want to confine ourselves to any single area of public affairs," says Livingston, chairman of the University of Texas government department. The school, he says, will attempt to train the student for entry into all public life, ranging from the grass-roots precinct to the national parties.

Livingston sees the presidential school as a two-year, masters degree-level program.

The first year will have a basic "core group" of courses in such matters as administration, political processes and government service.

The student will spend his second year in individual study and specialization.

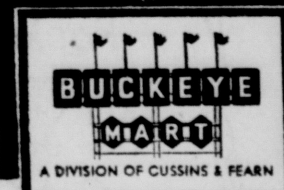

Classes will be small discussion seminars.

Views On TV - Radio

NEW YORK (AP) — If we have many more TV specials about the remote, sparsely inhabited Galapagos islands, they may become successors to Aca-pulco or Las Vegas as "in" places for tourists. And what will happen then to the blue-footed boobies and the Darwin finches and the giant tortoises that the conservationists want to keep alive?

A little over a week ago, Jacques Yves Cousteau and his sun-loving divers gave the ABC viewers a once-over-lightly tour of the volcanic Galapagos and its unusual fauna.

On Wednesday night CBS viewers had a closer, more comprehensive look at the island that more than a century ago stimulated Charles Darwin to study and think more deeply about the origin of the species.

This hour special apparently was made originally for the British TV audience and it had the Duke of Edinburgh doing some of the commentary and frequently mentioning the need to keep the islands off limits to man.

The camera team of Alan and Joan Root—who made "Born Free"—shot the footage showing the reptiles and birds found on the barren islands far off the coast of Ecuador. Since most of the creatures are amazingly tame, they had some marvelous sequences.

Viewers, thus, were able to see in close up the amusing courtship rituals of lumbering tortoises, sleek frigate birds and the clown-like blue-footed boobies. We watched the woodpecker finches poke twigs and cactus spines into tree holes to dig out insects.

Prince Philip visited the island briefly four or five years ago and is interested in conservation. His remarks were directly to the point and he displayed a good sense of humor and a nice turn of phrase. Most of the narration, however, was done by American actor Leon Janney.

For a family audience, it was a delightful hour. It would, however, have been helpful if, after lecturing us on the importance of saving the Galapagos, someone had told us specifically how individuals could help. A second mild complaint concerns the commercials—so carefully integrated into the show that the viewer was not aware the sales pitch was in progress until somebody started exhibiting cereal boxes.

Harbinger of spring from NBC plans for the summer replacement for the "Dean Martin Show" will be the singing, dancing Gold Diggers again, with comedians Paul Lynde and Stanley Myron Handelman and singer Lou Rawls as the other regulars.

Elephant Being Used In India To Give Out Contraceptives

By MYRON BELKIND
Associated Press Writer

RATANGARH, India (AP) — At a time when elephants in the United States are the symbolic center of attention, a 25-year-old female pachyderm has begun a life-long walk through India's often inaccessible villages to spread the message of family planning.

This elephant, strictly nonpolitical, made her debut before 500 excited residents of this rural community 100 miles north-east of New Delhi.

Purchased for $780 by 60 private individuals who donated $13 each, the elephant is to walk about 20 miles and visit five villages a day, dispensing contraceptives via its trunk at government-subsidized prices—less than one cent for three contraceptives—and distributing handbills and literature urging the various birth control methods.

Her name is Lal Tikon, meaning Red Triangle, the symbol of the government's family planning program which is seeking by various means to slow down the increase in the country's 530 million and increasing by 30,000 a day.

Although she has about 60 years of walking left, no one expects Lal Tikon to visit all of India's 560,000 villages in her lifetime.

Instead, her owners hope she will demonstrate a new and economical communications medium for family planning.

One of the walk's organizers explained that many villagers have no access to the radios or newspapers that are used extensively to publicize the family planning program.

As Lal Tikon enters a village, she will be recognized easily. A huge inverted red triangle is painted on her forehead.

On her flanks are two bright red and yellow cloth signs, one bearing the four faces of a happy Indian family and the other a triangle with the message "Lal Tikon Mera Nax. Khushi Batna Mera Kax." It means "My name is Lal Tikon. My job is to spread happiness."

The elephant walk is a non-governmental affair, and its organizers have insisted on personal anonymity. Many, however, work for the Ford Foundation and the U. S. Agency for International Development.

Lal Tikon has had a favorable effect on the village of Ratangarh. Since her arrival a week ago, five persons have volunteered for sterilization operations—three more than were performed in the last two years.

Dr. Sheppard Opens Gahanna Medical Office

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Dr. Samuel Sheppard, beset by professional and domestic problems since his acquittal in 1966 in a retrial on a charge of murdering his first wife, is giving it another go, this time in suburban Columbus.

The former Cleveland osteopath opened a medical office today in Gahanna. He said he will establish a general practice, taking care only of the sick.

"Those who aren't sick, who need obstetrics or surgery, I'll send to someone else," he said.

Sheppard resigned last November from Youngstown Osteopathic Hospital after two suits were filed against him in connection with surgery patients who died. His second wife, who married him in 1964, is suing him for divorce.

Views On TV - Radio

NEW YORK (AP) — If we have many more TV specials about the remote, sparsely inhabited Galapagos islands, they may become successors to Aca-pulco or Las Vegas as "in" places for tourists. And what will happen then to the blue-footed boobies and the Darwin finches and the giant tortoises that the conservationists want to keep alive?

A little over a week ago, Jacques Yves Cousteau and his team of divers gave the ABC viewers a once-over-lightly tour of the volcanic Galapagos and its unusual fauna.

On Wednesday night, CBS viewers had a closer, more comprehensive look at the island that more than a century ago stimulated Charles Darwin to study and think more deeply about the origin of the species.

This hour special apparently was made originally for the British TV audience and it had the Duke of Edinburgh doing some of the commentary and frequently mentioning the need to keep the islands off limits to man.

The camera team of Alan and Joan Root—who made "Born Free"—shot the footage showing the reptiles and birds found on the barren islands far off the coast of Ecuador. Since most of the creatures are amazingly tame, they had some marvelous sequences.

Viewers, thus, were able to see in close up the amusing courtship rituals of lumbering tortoises, sleek frigate birds and the clown-like blue-footed boobies. We watched the woodpecker finches poke twigs and cactus spines into tree holes to dig out insects.

Prince Philip visited the island briefly four or five years ago and is interested in conservation. His remarks were directly to the point and he displayed a good sense of humor and a nice turn of phrase. Most of the narration, however, was done by American actor Leon Janney.

For a family audience, it was a delightful hour. It would, however, have been helpful if, after lecturing us on the importance of saving the Galapagos, someone had told us specifically how individuals could help. A second mild complaint concerns the commercials—so carefully integrated into the show that the viewer was not aware the sales pitch was in progress until somebody started exhibiting cereal boxes.

Harbinger of spring from NBC plans for the summer replacement for the "Dean Martin Show" will be the singing, dancing Gold Diggers again, with comedians Paul Lynde and Stanley Myron Handelman and singer Lou Rawls as the other regulars.

Elephant Being Used In India To Give Out Contraceptives

By MYRON BELKIND
Associated Press Writer

RATANGARH, India (AP) — At a time when elephants in the United States are the symbolic center of attention, a 25-year-old female pachyderm has begun a life-long walk through India's often inaccessible villages to spread the message of family planning.

This elephant, strictly nonpolitical, made her debut before 500 excited residents of this rural community 100 miles north-east of New Delhi.

Purchased for $780 by 60 private individuals who donated $13 each, the elephant is to walk about 20 miles and visit five villages a day, dispensing contraceptives via its trunk at government-subsidized prices—less than one cent for three contraceptives—and distributing handbills and literature urging the various birth control methods.

Her name is Lal Tikon, meaning Red Triangle, the symbol of the government's family planning program which is seeking by various means to slow down the increase in the country's 530 million and increasing by 30,000 a day.

Although she has about 60 years of walking left, no one expects Lal Tikon to visit all of India's 560,000 villages in her lifetime.

Instead, her owners hope she will demonstrate a new and economical communications medium for family planning.

One of the walk's organizers explained that many villagers have no access to the radios or newspapers that are used extensively to publicize the family planning program.

As Lal Tikon enters a village, she will be recognized easily. A huge inverted red triangle is painted on her forehead.

On her flanks are two bright red and yellow cloth signs, one bearing the four faces of a happy Indian family and the other a triangle with the message "Lal Tikon Mera Nax. Khushi Batna Mera Kax." It means "My name is Lal Tikon. My job is to spread happiness."

The elephant walk is a non-governmental affair, and its organizers have insisted on personal anonymity. Many, however, work for the Ford Foundation and the U. S. Agency for International Development.

Lal Tikon has had a favorable effect on the village of Ratangarh. Since her arrival a week ago, five persons have volunteered for sterilization operations—three more than were performed in the last two years.

The Pickaway County Historical Society will award a Junior Membership to any Pickaway County student under 18 years of age who correctly identifies the marker shown here.

Two clues are given. The marker is in the north-east section of the county and it has a connection with an early church.

The following data is required for complete identification of the marker: Location by township, road and owner of the property on which it stands; Identification of the church which it is connected with; Event which it commemorates, giving the date.

Entries should include name, age, grade of student and names and addresses of the parents. Send all entries to Mrs. Ray W. Davis, Box 267, Circleville.

2nd Son Of Gen. Creighton Abrams In Thick Of Fight

FIREBASE BLACKHAWK, American commander in South Vietnam (AP) — 1st Lt. John N. Abrams, 22-year-old son of Creighton W. Abrams, Jr.,

THE NUDE LOOK comes into its own, you might say, with this evening gown by Tita Rossi in Rome. White bikini pants and tiny hearts on the bodice keep it legal.

Officers and men at this base 20 miles east of Pleiku describe the slightly built Abrams as a tough, aggressive military man.

"He is a damn good officer," said Lt. Col. Richard A. Miller, 38, Lindsey, Ohio, the 1st Cavalry commander. "He knows this area like the back of his hand."

On a recent operation, Abrams watched from his helicopter as his troop carried out a search and cordon move. He spotted one Viet Cong running from a village with a weapon.

"Fire a few warning shots," Abrams said to his gunners, adding, "The idea is to capture him."

The Viet Cong vanished into the brush and Abrams ordered his chopper to land. With a handful of men, he took off in pursuit. The man couldn't be found, and the young officer shook his head in disappointment.

"That's one of the most difficult things about this war," he said. "You are never sure who's who."

Going back to his helicopter, Abrams passed one of his medics treating a wounded Viet Cong.

"Keep trying to save him doc," he said.

An older brother, Capt. Creighton W. Abrams 3rd, was here as a battery commander and now is stationed at Ft. Sill, Okla.

A third Abrams son, 8, is in school in the States.

Films Slated At County Speech Clinic

A recording explaining different hearing losses will be presented at the Saturday Speech and Hearing Clinic Feb. 22 in the Mound Street Elementary Gymnasium.

The presentations will be at 9 a.m., 9:45 a.m., 10:45 a.m., 11:30 a.m. and 12:45 p.m.

This will enable people to understand the problems which exist with different hearing losses. The community is invited to this demonstration.

The Speech and Hearing Clinic, coordinated for Pickaway County by Mrs. Paul Schein, is held on Saturdays at the Mound Street Elementary School. The clinic supervisor, Dave Spidal, of Ohio State University brings five students from Ohio State University who are enrolled in the Speech and Hearing Department at the University.

Because the therapists are students, there is no charge to the families for the therapy. Administrative costs are paid by a grant from the Ohio Department of Health.

The therapists are also involved in research to find better methods of helping those who have speech and hearing problems. Therapists are Vince Lustig, Miss Marilee Moore, Miss Joan Johnson, Miss Joan Payne and Miss Beth Jacobs, graduate students from Ohio State University.

Clerical work for the clinic is done by Mrs. M. C. Kirkwood. Some funds and other services are furnished by the Pickaway County Society for Crippled Children and Adults.

Appointments for speech and hearing evaluations can be made by contacting Mrs. Paul Schein, Route 1, Williamsport, phone 986-3199. There is no charge for this service to residents of Pickaway County.

Widow Has Triplets; 14 Children

BARSTOW, Calif. (AP) — "Things are a little confused right now, but we're all fine, well and happy," says Betty Gallegos.

Mrs. Gallegos, 44, widowed last September, gave birth to triplets Saturday, and left St. Mary Desert Valley Hospital Wednesday with her three new sons, Kim, Kirk and Kit.

She now has 14 children.

The first problem: finding a baby-sitter so she can resume her $275-a-month job as hostess in the officers club at the nearby Marine Corps Supply Depot.

She says, with a chuckle, the baby sitter should have plenty of experience—and steady nerves.

The sitter will take care of the triplets and also nine of the other children.

Pete Gallegos, 48, a pipeline worker, died in September after a heart seizure.

Mrs. Gallegos' other children range in age from 4 to 23.

Lyndon Johnson Turns To Cattle Raising

By SAUL PETT
AP Special Correspondent
STONEWALL, Tex. (AP) — Under the spreading oaks, under the big benign sky of Texas, a rancher named Lyndon Baines Johnson allowed as how the cattle looked good.

"We've had some cold spells that burnt the oats some," he said. "I went horseback riding with my favorite girl this morning and the cattle—well, I don't want to say they never had it so good—but they generally look good."

Three days out of the White House, Johnson also allowed as how he'll "certainly" miss power but is not having trouble decompressing. He said he "enjoyed very much" being president and that he is satisfied that his renunciation of another term helped bring North Vietnam to the peace table and helped unify a divided America.

About missing power, he said, "I'm sure any person who has been active as I have for 38 years in public affairs will notice when the roll is called and his name is not there. But I want to miss it. It hurts good."

Johnson and his wife aired their thoughts at a news conference on the broad lawn before their big white frame ranch house, near the plastic bubble covering the swimming pool on the banks of the Pedernales River.

The words of the former president were those of a relaxed man but his manner, in the view of many veteran Johnson watchers, was not. To them, he appeared taut and his smile was somewhat perfunctory and, as always, he still sparred carefully with reporters.

Perhaps his most revealing answer was to the question: "Are you a happy man today, Mr. President?"

"Yes," said Lyndon Johnson, "I think so."

He spoke of the many things he no longer has to do, the "decisions to be made by 4 o'clock," the 15 or 20 appointments to keep every day, the military intelligence reports to be read, the cables from the "sensitive capitals" of the world to be studied.

Last March 31, President Johnson renounced another term in the White House in the hope that this act would help bring Hanoi to the peace table and help end the divisiveness in the country.

He said Wednesday he is satisfied that his withdrawal was effective on both levels. "North Vietnam," he said "might have been hesitant to come to Paris if they thought I was acting for political reasons." Domestically, he said, his renunciation resulted in "less protest from the dissenting groups in the cities than if I were still a candidate."

"They lost some of their incentive when they found out I was not expecting them to vote for me. When they understood this, there was less hatred and less bitterness."

Mrs. Johnson interposed, "they lost their symbol, their target."

Would he ever run again for elective office? Johnson seemed reluctant to close out his options. He said he had no plans along these lines but "no one can say for certain what the future will encompass. The best laid plans of mice and men often come to naught."

Returning to the house, Lady Bird Johnson was asked if she was enjoying a sense of liberation.

The former First Lady threw out her arms and a big warm smile crossed her face and she said, with an intensity that seemed to come up from her heels:

"I'm feeling fine, just fine!"

"But I am worried about getting all those clothes into these closets."

The players on the team are Chris Barr, Kenny Bidwell, Jack Brady, Jack Brinker, Steve Bumgardner, Mike Combs, David Dean, Randy Dixon, Ray Good, Scott Huffer, Keith Lemaster, Joe Lombardo, Randy Nungester, Jeff Sheets, Sam Wilson and Charles Worthington.

Justice commented that the boys are improving and that they work very hard. Each time they play they give their best.

Trout Hatching Disease Spreads

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Ohio State University researchers are working to isolate a minute organism which has killed the entire 1968 crop of trout fingerlings at one state hatchery and threatens the million dollar trout hatching industry in Ohio.

The researchers are checking other waters to see if they also are infected and research into the disease itself is planned at OSU under a 15-month, $16,000 research grant from the Ohio Division of Wildlife and the Federal Bureau of Commercial Fisheries.

Syria Claims Lebanon Not Aiding Cause

Block Guerrillas From New Raids Into Israel

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Syria charged Wednesday that Lebanese troops are cracking down on Palestinian guerrillas and preventing them from crossing Lebanon's southern frontier to attack Israel.

The newspaper Al Baath, published by Syria's ruling Baath Socialist party, said several guerrillas of the Al Fatah organization were rounded up Friday night when they returned from a commando mission in Upper Galilee.

The paper said the Lebanese army has sealed the border and banned guerrillas from crossing into Israel.

Al Fatah is the largest and most effective of the Arab Guerrilla movements.

Al Fatah officials in Amman, Jordan, reported Tuesday that Lebanese authorities had asked the movement not to use Lebanon as a base for its operations.

In Lebanon, meanwhile, authoritative sources said a mission of three French officers had arrived in Beirut to advise the government on its defense needs.

The team is made up of two staff colonels from the French army and one from the air force. The Lebanese army asked that it be sent following President Charles de Gaulle's outspoken condemnation of the Israeli commando raid on the Beirut airport and his retaliatory ban on the shipment of French military supplies to Israel.

During the night Arab saboteurs blew up part of the main highway in upper Galilee two miles east of the Lebanese border, the Israeli army announced, but there were no casualties and traffic was not halted.

In the Gaza Strip, Israeli troops shot and wounded an Arab they said was trying to escape arrest in Gaza City. The army said the man was suspected of blowing up a tractor. The occupied Gaza Strip was still tense because of the shooting Monday of 10 Arab women and girls during an anti-Israeli demonstration at Rafah. One of the women was killed.

Toronto Theater Attempts To Bring In More Patrons

By WILLIAM GLOVER
AP Drama Writer

TORONTO (AP) — In its drive to build a sturdy audience, Theater Toronto is trying a policy of cautious daring.

"We found that a lot of people pulled back from too much novelty," says administrative director Raymond Wickens of box-office results during the initial season last year.

So to launch this crucial survival semester, the young company decided to flavor repertory display with classic substance that is also very ultrafashionable in theme.

Instead of going for something by the old reliable of all struggling troupes, William Shakespeare, Theater Toronto opted for the bard's noted rival, Christopher Marlowe, and "Edward II."

Seen at the premiere a few nights ago, the much-neglected pageant of florid bombast neatly avoids the peril of museum stuffiness by forthrightly facing that very chic stage subject of the moment—homosexuality.

The story of a wayward 14th century English king demonstrates that even black comedy isn't new—his barons rebel not because of offbeat regal dalliance, but only because his favorites are of foreign or lowly birth.

Wickens, discussing the overall season prospects, notes that the upcoming schedule seems to be drawing the desired interest. Subscriptions dropped—as anticipated—from 11,000 last year to 6,000 now "but single ticket sales are moving along at a pace that is expected to balance the drop."

Theater Toronto is budgeted at $450,000 for a four-play agenda through March. Of that sum, $125,000 is provided by the Federal Arts Council, $40,000 by the province, $10, by the city. An anticipated $6,000 deficit between total costs and these items plus box office is pledged by the board of governors.

Originally five plays were planned, but rising costs caused Wickens and Williams to revert to four plays. The others are to be Shaw's "In Good King Charles' Golden Days," Goldoni's "The Servant of Two Masters" and—as proof that the troupe isn't going to abandon completely the policy of exploring new works—Gunter Grass' "The Pelebeians Rehearse the Uprising."

Ladies Of The Street Plague Fashionable Avenue In Paris

PARIS (AP) — The rich and elegant residents of the French capital's most exclusive street are pestering the police to chase the prostitutes away from their front gates.

The complaints come from the Avenue Foch, the wide, leafy thoroughfare that is home in Paris to Aristotle Onassis, Sophia Loren and a thousand other wealthy capitalists, conspicuous consumer and society page fixtured.

After dark prostitutes in minicars come from outside the area to prowl the avenue while a few others take station in front of the ivy-covered gates in front of the mansions and luxurious apartment houses. They like Avenue Foch because it is quiet and free of heavy automobile and pedestrian traffic.

The girls in cars stop for men waiting along the street or flash their lights at a car with only a man in it. The residents find the lights annoying, also.

"I know it's extremely disagreeable to these people," said the chief of the vice squad, Pierre Ottavio. "We're harassing the girls as best we can and arrests are made every night. But the girls are clever, and arrests are not easy."

An arrest can't be made until a girl actually solicits a customer. Ottavio says the Avenue Foch girls seem to have a sixth sense about plainclothesmen and only make their approach when they find someone who looks "manageable" and "not like a cop."

Man Paying State Loan 33 Years

AKRON, Ohio (AP)—Stewart Lee lost both hands in an industrial accident in 1935 and borrowed $700 from the state for artificial hands. So far he has repaid $940. He has to keep paying. And he can't use the artificial hands.

Lee, 55, of Akron, was 21 when the accident occurred in a rubber shop. He got a $700 loan from the Ohio Bureau of Workmen's Compensation in 1937 to buy artificial hands.

He was to pay back the loan at 57 cents a week, deducted from his compensation check. The figure was arrived at by using mortality tables figuring his life expectancy, according to George H. Thompson, claims director for the bureau.

Lee can't use the hands because, he said, they infected his arms.

The loan was granted under an old law, which has since been changed. Thompson said the only way to stop the 57-cent-a-week payment is to change the law. Or if Lee dies.

Lee, who has not worked since the accident, first collected $16 a week from the state and the figure now is $45.50. His wife gets $42 a week from the state for taking care of him. She has operated a beauty shop at their home for 25 years and the couple has raised a son and a daughter, now both married.

GLENN G. MCCOY

McCoy Elected President Of Fair Board

At the recent reorganization meeting of the Pickaway County Agricultural Society, Glenn G. McCoy, Route 3, was reelected president for a third term.

Other officers re-elected were veteran fair board member Richard Shaw, vice president, Roger Bowers, secretary and Robert Liston, treasurer.

President McCoy installed the directors who had been elected by the members at the annual meeting. They are: Karl Braskett, Scioto Twp.; Ralph Stir Jr., Madison Twp.; Robert Young, Pickaway Twp.; Robert Collins, Salter Creek Twp.; Richard Shaw, Roger Bowers, and Dr. F. P. Dunlap, city of Circleville and William Thornton, Wayne Twp.

McCoy announced that the Director of Agriculture has approved the dates requested by the local Fair Board for the 1969 Fair. Members of the board after study of the annual financial statement prepared by Secretary Roger Bowers as well as the estimated attendance at the 1968 Fair requested an opening date of Sunday, July 27 and a closing day of Friday, Aug. 1. Along with the approval of these dates, the Board has again voted to continue the free gate policy.

THE only charge for admission to the grounds will be for the parking of vehicles. By the continuation of this policy, the Fair Board hopes to encourage better attendance at the Fair.

"The accent of our Fair is Youth, and by the continuation of these two policies we hope to encourage more people in the area to attend the Fair and discover the many talents and abilities of our city and county youngsters in completion of their various 4-H and FFA projects," McCoy said.

One of the many problems confronting the Board is the increased interest in the 4-H Horse and Pony classes. Expansion of these classes has made it necessary for the Directors to consider additional housing facilities for these projects.

For the last two years the overflow of horses and ponies has been housed in tents. The Building and Grounds committee, chaired by Vice President Shaw is presently studying various building possibilities.

McCoy stated the 1969 premium book is underway. Various changes are planned. Increased interest has been shown for the addition of an open hog class. Some classes in the fruit and vegetable division will be discontinued due to lack of entries.

The 1969 memberships of the Pickaway County Agricultural Society will go on sale in the near future. The Fair Board urges all Pickaway Countians to support the youth of the community by the purchase of one of these memberships.

Something To Think About . . . The Inauguration

By JEAN CRIST

Along with the majority of the people in this country, I watched on television and read about the details of the inauguration of our 37th President, Richard Nixon. It is another important piece of history in the making that we have witnessed this past year.

This man, as president, is an unknown even to those who feel they know him quite well, for the presidency changes a man. The most knowing of us all cannot say at this time where or how he shall lead us in the years to come. So it is with great faith we as a people must place our trust in the judgment of the man we have chosen as our president. Those of both political parties must stand taller than they ever have before and unite, not in the sense of agreement in issue, but in agreement of purpose. The purpose of peace in the world and the purpose of equality at home. These are not just idealistic words but express imperative needs that must be met in order that our country be restored to the moral strength that gave it its start.

Although this was not my personal choice as the man to lead our country, he was elected by the people and is now my president. And I along with millions of other people who are of my persuasion intend to support and respect him in this position. We are not required to follow him blindly and without question of his policies but we owe it to our country and all it stands for to give respect to the office of the presidency and to the man who holds this office.

This follows through with those elected statesmen that we have chosen to assist him in his challenging position of guiding a society as complex as ours.

With all this in mind, I read a report of the inaugural march of a group of so-called "anti-war demonstrators" in Washington. They wore Nixon masks in ridicule, hung him in effigy and called him criminal. This condemnation for a man who had not yet assumed office and been given the opportunity to either prove or disprove himself.

They carried flags representing the North Vietnamese and the Viet Cong. Some attempted to haul down the American flag at the foot of Capitol Hill.

They threw stones and firecrackers at the guests of a reception for Vice President Spiro Agnew forcing guests to walk in the mud to be spared injury.

A quote that I read in the newspaper regarding this incident hit me with greater impact than any other single item I had read about the inauguration. "Is this right?" said a woman to her escort. "The hippies have the sidewalk and the establishment has to walk in the mud."

How long must those who feed and house the people, pay the taxes, heal their bodies, build the churches, assume burdening responsibilities and try not to enroach upon the freedom of their fellow man be made to "walk in the mud" while those who accept no responsibility, not even for themselves, do nothing constructive to contribute to society and who not only sink in the mire of their own misery but drag others with them, continue to "use the sidewalks?"

I want to make it clear at this point that my disgust lies with those demonstrators who promote and revel in violence and whose main purpose is to destroy. Those who often hide criminal intent under the cover of marching for a "cause." The unfortunate youngsters that are caught up in the idealism of the age and are so confused by the problems of the world who join these marches are a sad and regrettable part of the picture. They are often swallowed up in the quicksand of persuasion that these professional demonstrators have become expert in exercising.

Obviously, the marchers in this instance, hit me where it hurt. They made me nauseous at their attire, belligerent at their behavior, and so angry they forced me to hate them for what they were doing. Their actions brought forth such emotions as fear and uncertainty in my thinking. In other words, their march was a success as far as I was concerned, for I responded just as they had hoped.

But I'm glad to say their's was only a temporary success for after I stopped being emotional about the matter and started doing some thinking about it, I made a few decisions regarding my future reactions to reports of this kind. I decided to refuse to let them so affect my thinking that they force me into the same attitudes that have made them what they are. I decided to refuse to let them destroy my faith in the men and symbols that represent these United States. And last of all, I decided to refuse to hate, even them, for hate solves nothing.

The majority of us actually have no way of controlling rioting and marching with violence, but we can control our reaction to it. If enough of us exercise this control and do not succumb to the temptation to respond as the demonstrators expect we can succeed in this way to defeat their purpose which of course, is to undermine the average American's belief in his country and his way of government.

So, in essence, the end result of these violent demonstrations is not so much what the demonstrators do, but in how the majority of the American people respond to it. The presence of this type of demonstration can be a force which destroys and undermines a whole country or one which acts as a powerful stimulus to unite the people and give them more strength and belief than ever before.

How the people choose to respond to this type of situation could be of great import to this country in the coming months.

Plum Elected Easter Seal Chairman

RICHARD PLUM

Richard E. Plum, 610 Ridgewood Drive, has been appointed Easter Seal Campaign Chairman again this year for The Pickaway County Society for Crippled Children and Adults according to Mrs. Elliott Mason, Society President.

The 1969 campaign will be launched March 3 and continue through April 6.

Plum, a local insurance executive and president of The Third National Bank is looking forward to another successful campaign with a goal set at $6,000.

In addition to the local chairmanship, Plum is serving a two-year term on the Ohio Society Board of Directors.

Hold 2 Men For Larceny

CINCINNATI (AP) — Two area men charged with the theft of about 2,600 unsigned documents from the Hamilton County Deputy Registrar's office are being held in jail today.

Millard Cox, 20, Cincinnati, and Gerald Turner, 27, of Newport, Ky., are accused of taking drivers licenses, transfer papers and registration cards in a recent burglary.

More than 2,000 have been recovered.

"The blank drivers licenses were going for $10 and the car registration and transfer papers were selling for several hundred dollars," detective Kenneth Schnurr said.

The pair also admitted 45 burglaries in Hamilton, Clermont and Butler counties, police said.

New Health Chief

LEBANON, Ohio (AP) — Dr. Charles A. Dille of Dayton has been selected as Warren County's health commissioner to succeed Dr. Arch Harvey who retired in October after 20 years' service.

Ohio's Oldest Living Convict, 93; Won't Leave Chillicothe

CHILLICOTHE, Ohio (AP) — No one has, or is likely to want, the longevity record for which John Weber might be most remembered.

He is 93 and Ohio's oldest living convict.

Weber was born in 1875 in what was then Austria-Hungary, and came to the United States in 1923 via Argentina.

In 1926 he was accused in the shotgun slaying of his daughter and on Nov. 24, that year, was sentenced to life in the state penitentiary.

Weber still insists that the shooting, at Batavia in Clermont County, was accidental. Even so, he has been confined continuously for 42 years.

Weber says he does not want to be released from the Chillicothe Correctional Institute.

"Where would I go if I did get out and what would I do?" he asked. "Here I eat good, sleep good and they treat me good."

Prison records show he has a daughter in this country but there is no correspondence. He said he has relatives in the old country but he receives no mail or visitors.

His only income is the $4 per month prison pay.

Fellow inmates consider Weber a spry old man. He is assigned as a porter in a prison dormitory and his supervisor describes him as clean and neat.

Housing Project Slated For Lebanon

LEBANON, Ohio (AP) — A $9 million housing project is slated for the southern section of Lebanon, according to a Cincinnati land development firm.

Gallenstein Bros., Inc., disclosed plans for the 138-acre complex Wednesday and said it will consist of homes and apartments for 500 families accompanied by business and recreation facilities.

Cincinnati Youth Gets Life Term

CINCINNATI (AP)—Edmund Johnson of Cincinnati will begin serving a life imprisonment sentence on his conviction of two bank robbery charges Wednesday without recommendation of mercy.

A jury in Hamilton County Common Pleas Court found the 20-year-old youth guilty of unlawful entry of a financial institution and armed robbery in an attempt at a Provident Bank branch here July 30.

The verdict of no mercy carries a life sentence on the unlawful entry charge and the assistant county prosecutor said that it was rare that mercy is not recommended in such a case.

McCoy Elected President Of Fair Board

At the recent reorganization meeting of the Pickaway County Agricultural Society, Glenn G. McCoy, Route 3, was re-elected president for a third term.

Other officers re-elected were veteran fair board member Richard Shaw, vice president, Roger Bowers, Secretary and Robert Liston, treasurer.

President McCoy installed the directors who had been elected by the members at the annual meeting. They are: Earl Braskett, Scioto Twp.; Ralph Str Jr., Madison Twp.; Robert Young, Pickaway Twp.; Robert Collins, Salter Creek Twp.; Richard Shaw, Roger Bowers, and Dr. F. P. Dunlap, city of Circleville and William Thornton, Wayne Twp.

McCoy announced that the Director of Agriculture has approved the dates requested by the local Fair Board for the 1969 Fair. Members of the board after study of the annual financial statement prepared by Secretary Roger Bowers as well as the estimated attendance at the 1968 Fair requested an opening date of Sunday, July 27 and a closing day of Friday, Aug. 1. Along with the approval of these dates, the Board has

Brecksville Man Held In Slaying

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP) — A 30-year-old Brecksville man accused of killing his estranged wife waived a preliminary hearing on a first-degree murder charge in Garfield Heights Municipal Court Wednesday and was bound over to the Cuyahoga County Grand Jury.

Earl E. Kirtley is held without bond in the county jail. He is accused of shooting his wife, Katherine, 27, Tuesday in the dining room of her home in Garfield Heights.

Something To Think About . . . The Inauguration

By JEAN CRIST

Along with the majority of the people in this country, I watched on television and read about the details of the inauguration of our 37th President, Richard Nixon. It is another important piece of history in the making that we have witnessed this past year.

This man, as president, is an unknown even to those who feel they know him quite well, for the presidency changes a man. The most knowing of us all cannot say at this time where or how he shall lead us in the years to come. So it is with great faith we as a people must place our trust in the judgment of the man we have chosen as our president. Those of both political parties must stand taller than they ever have before and unite, not in the sense of agreement in issue, but in agreement of purpose. The purpose of peace in the world and the purpose of equality at home. These are not just idealistic words but express imperative needs that must be met in order that our country be restored to the moral strength that gave it its start.

Although this was not my personal choice as the man to lead our country, he was elected by the people and is now my president. And I along with millions of other people who are of my persuasion intend to support and respect him in this position. We are not required to follow him blindly and without question of his policies but we owe it to our country and all it stands for to give respect to the office of the presidency and to the man who holds this office.

This follows through with those elected statesmen that we have chosen to assist him in his challenging position of guiding a society as complex as ours.

With all this in mind, I read a report of the inaugural march of a group of so-called "anti-war demonstrators" in Washington. They wore Nixon masks in ridicule, hung him in effigy and called him criminal. This condemnation for a man who had not yet assumed office and been given the opportunity to either prove or disprove himself.

They carried flags representing the North Vietnamese and the Viet Cong. Some attempted to haul down the American flag at the foot of Capitol Hill.

They threw stones and firecrackers at the guests of a reception for Vice President Spiro Agnew forcing guests to walk in the mud to be spared injury.

A quote that I read in the newspaper regarding this incident hit me with greater impact than any other single item I had read about the inauguration. "Is this right," said a woman to her escort. "The hippies have the sidewalk and the establishment has to walk in the mud."

How long must those who feed and house the people, pay the taxes, heal their bodies, build the churches, assume burdening responsibilities and try not to encroach upon the freedom of their fellow man be made to "walk in the mud" while those who accept no responsibility, not even for themselves, do nothing constructive to contribute to society and who not only sink in the mire of their

I want to make it clear at this point that my disgust lies with those demonstrators who promote and revel in violence and whose main purpose is to destroy. Those who often hide criminal intent under the cover of marching for a "cause." The unfortunate youngsters that are caught up in the idealism of the age and are so confused by the problems of the world who join these marches are a sad and regrettable part of the picture. They are often swayed up in the quicksand of persuasion that these professional demonstrators have become expert in exercising.

Obviously, the marchers in this instance, hit me where it hurt. They made me nauseous at their attire, belligerent at their behavior, and so angry they forced me to hate them for what they were doing. Their actions brought forth such emotions as fear and uncertainty in my thinking. In other words, their march was a success as far as I was concerned, for I responded just as they had hoped.

But I'm glad to say their's was only a temporary success for after I stopped being emotional about the matter and started doing some thinking about it, I made a few decisions regarding my future reactions to reports of this kind. I decided to refuse to let them so affect my thinking that they force me into the same attitudes that have made them what they are. I decided to refuse to let them destroy my faith in the men and symbols that represent these United States. And last of all, I decided to refuse to hate, even them, for hate solves nothing.

The majority of us actually have no way of controlling rioting and marching with violence, but we can control our reaction to it. If enough of us exercise this control and do not succumb to the temptation to respond as the demonstrators expect we can succeed in this way to defeat their purpose which of course, is to undermine the average American's belief in his country and his way of government.

So, in essence, the end result of these violent demonstrations is not so much what the demonstrators do, but in how the majority of the American people respond to it. The presence of this type of demonstration can be a force which destroys and undermines a whole country or one which acts as a powerful stimulus to unite the people and give them more strength and belief than ever before.

How the people choose to respond to this type of situation could be of great import to this country in the coming months.

Plum Elected Easter Seal Chairman

RICHARD PLUM

Richard E. Plum, 610 Ridgewood Drive, has been appointed Easter Seal Campaign Chairman again this year for The Pickaway County Society for Crippled Children and Adults according to Mrs. Elliott Mason, Society President.

The 1969 campaign will be launched March 3 and continue through April 6.

Plum, a local insurance executive and president of The Third National Bank is looking forward to another successful campaign with a goal set at $6,000.

In addition to the local chairmanship, Plum is serving a two-year term on the Ohio Society Board of Directors.

Hold 2 Men For Larceny

CINCINNATI (AP) — Two area men charged with the theft of about 2,600 unsigned documents from the Hamilton County Deputy Registrar's office are being held in jail today.

Millard Cox, 20, Cincinnati, and Gerald Turner, 27, of Newport, Ky., are accused of taking drivers licenses, transfer papers and registration cards in a recent burglary.

More than 2,000 have been recovered. "The blank drivers licenses were going for $10 and the car registration and transfer papers were selling for several hundred dollars," detective Kenneth Schnurr said.

The pair also admitted 45 burglaries in Hamilton, Clermont and Butler counties, police said.

LEBANON, Ohio (AP) — Dr. Charles A. Dille of Dayton has been selected as Warren County's health commissioner to succeed Dr. Arch Harvey who retired in October after 20 years' service.

Cincinnati Youth Gets Life Term

CINCINNATI (AP)—Edmund Johnson of Cincinnati will begin serving a life imprisonment sentence on his conviction of two bank robbery charges Wednesday without recommendation of mercy.

A jury in Hamilton County Common Pleas Court found the 20-year-old youth guilty of unlawful entry of a financial institution and armed robbery in an attempt at a Provident Bank branch here July 30.

The verdict of no mercy carries a life sentence on the unlawful entry charge and the assistant county prosecutor said that it was rare that mercy is not recommended in such a case.

Ohio's Oldest Living Convict, 93; Won't Leave Chillicothe

CHILLICOTHE, Ohio (AP) — No one has, or is likely to want, the longevity record for which John Weber might be most remembered.

He is 93 and Ohio's oldest living convict.

Weber was born in 1875 in what was then Austria-Hungary, and came to the United States in 1923 via Argentina.

In 1926 he was accused in the shotgun slaying of his daughter and on Nov. 24, that year, was sentenced to life in the state penitentiary.

Weber still insists that the shooting, at Batavia in Clermont County, was accidental, even so, he has been confined continuously for 42 years.

Weber says he does not want to be released from the Chillicothe Correctional Institute.

"Where would I go if I did get out and what would I do?" he asked. "Here I eat good, sleep good and they treat me good."

Prison records show he has a daughter in this country but there is no correspondence. He said he has relatives in the old country but he receives no mail or visitors.

His only income is the $4 per month prison pay.

Fellow inmates consider Weber a sly old man. He is assigned as a porter in a prison dormitory and his supervisor describes him as clean and neat.

Housing Project Slated For Lebanon

LEBANON, Ohio (AP)—A $9 million housing project is slated for the southern section of Lebanon, according to a Cincinnati land development firm.

Gallenstein Bros., Inc., disclosed plans for the 138-acre complex Wednesday and said it will consist of homes and apartments for 500 families accompanied by business and recreation facilities.

CHS Tigers Face Blue Lions, Westfall In Weekend Tilts

Circleville hosts Washington C.H. Friday in South Central Ohio League play.

The first time the two teams played — at Washington — the Blue Lions won, 75-68.

Washington is the second place team in the league, along with Wilmington, with a 4-2 record. Overall they have won seven games and lost six.

The Blue Lions are presently on a three-game losing streak, their last loss was to the Plains of Mt. Sterling, a class A school.

PACED by Steve Bowers, a 6-3 guard who is averaging nearly 20 points a game, this year's edition of the Blue Lions is scoring over 64 points a game. Opponents are scoring about 62 points a game.

Although Bowers is the high point maker for the Blue Lions, there are several other members of the squad capable of double figure performances.

Lowell Harper, a 6-2 forward, has 116 points for the season. Bucky Burbage has tossed in a total of 107 points and Herbie Sollars 110.

Washington is one of the taller teams in the league. Sollars, the center, is 6 feet 6 inches tall. Harper is 6-2 and Burbage 6-3.

Circleville is averaging 10 points a game less than its opposition. The Tigers have been hitting the nets at a 64.2 clip while the opponents this season are averaging 74.

Dave Horst has proven to be a steady performer for the Red and Black and is currently the team's leading scorer. His season total is 177 points.

Will Namath Quit Football?

NEW YORK (AP) — Was the Super Bowl Joe Namath's super farewell to professional football?

The brilliant quarterback, who predicted that the New York Jets would beat the Baltimore Colts in the Super Bowl and made good his boast, wasn't talking Wednesday—at least on that topic.

"I'm very happy with my life as it is right now," Namath said at a City Hall tribute to the Jets. But he also said:

"Jimmy Brown got out while he was still healthy," referring to the Cleveland Browns' star fullback who retired at the peak of his career to become a movie actor. "You want to make it while you're on top—before you get destroyed."

Namath's knees, operated on several times, are a prime source of concern.

The quarterback currently has several business ventures going, including a New York night spot and string of drive-in restaurants. Namath said he has received a number of other offers—some in the show business field—since the Super Bowl and said he would evaluate the situation after returning from a USO-sponsored tour of Far East military installations. He leaves today.

At the City Hall ceremonies, attended by more than 5,000 persons, Namath paid tribute to his teammates, some 15 of whom were in attendance.

"I've been reading about everything I did," he said. "And I did play good. But if it wasn't for these fellows, where would I be? Everything's a team thing. Believe that, it's a 40-50-man thing."

total. In recent games the sharpshooting Jackson has been the Tigers' "sixth man," coming off the bench when the CHS scoring punch needed bolstering.

Phil Diehl has been starting since the Hillsboro game. Although he had scored only one point in the first five games, he has pitched in 98 since earning a starting role, an average of 14 per tilt.

Ty Ankrom and Dave Hopkins, the other two starters on the Tiger quintet, are averaging about seven points a game.

Esposito Leads In NHL Scoring

CHICAGO (AP) — A Christmas poke in the jaw, among other things, has the five-year stranglehold by Chicago's Bobby Hull and Stan Mikita on the National Hockey League scoring crown in danger of being broken.

At the All-Star game break this week, Boston's Phil Esposito stood five points ahead of runnerup Hull, and 12 points ahead of fourth-place Mikita, slumping defending champion.

It was the first time since Dec. 5, 1967, that neither Mikita, scoring listless four of the past five seasons, nor Hull, goal-making champ the past three seasons, has led the NHL point race.

LA Stars Trip Oaks, 123-121

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The Oakland Oaks, who waited so long for Rick Barry to join them, did perfectly well without him until George Stone ruined them with a last second perfect shot.

Stone's 22-foot jumper brought the Los Angeles Stars a 123-121 victory over the Oaks at Los Angeles Wednesday night, ending their 16-game winning streak.

The Oaks, galloping off with the Western Division of the American Basketball Association, were 25-4 when Barry suffered a knee injury Dec. 27.

But without Barry, who had to sit out a year before joining Oakland, the Oaks compiled a 10-0 mark until Stone took a pass with three seconds left while his coach, Bill Sharman, pleaded for a time out, and dropped in the winner. He finished with 31 points.

Denver thus cut Oakland's lead to 10 games with a 124-103 victory over the New York Nets at home.

In other games, Kentucky and Indiana remained deadlocked for second place in the East, 3 1/2 games behind idle Minnesota, as the visiting Colonels nudged Dallas 104-102 and the Pacers routed Miami 140-117 at Indianapolis. New Orleans stopped Houston 121-117 at Houston in the other game.

In the National Basketball Association, Detroit edged the Los Angeles Lakers 116-115. Seattle surprised Baltimore 98-94. Atlanta bombed Phoenix 125-107. Chicago upset Boston 95-94 and Philadelphia outlasted the New York Knicks 140-137 in two overtimes.

Astros Trade Staub For Alou And Clendenon

HOUSTON (AP) — When the Houston Astros finished in the National League cellar last season General Manager H. B. "Spec" Richardson said there were "no untouchables" on the squad.

He proved it Wednesday when he announced that Rusty Staub, the Astros' top hitter, had been traded to the new National League Montreal club for first baseman Donn Clendenon and outfielder Jesus Alou.

Clendenon and Alou were the third and fourth major league players to be acquired in trades by Houston since the end of the 1968 season. Previously acquired were catcher John Edwards from the St. Louis Cardinals and Curt Blefary from the Baltimore Orioles.

Richardson said there could be even more trades.

The popular Staub, one of Houston's first big bonus players in 1961, hit .291 last season. He finished with a .533 average in 1967 after leading the National League for a good portion of the season.

The 24-year-old redhead, who plays both first base and right field, had a .273 lifetime batting average in six seasons.

Alou and Clendenon went to Montreal in the recent expansion draft. Alou from the San Francisco Giants and Clendenon from the Pittsburgh Pirates. Alou, 25, hit .263 with the Giants. Clendenon, 33, hit .257 for the Pirates.

Both Alou and Clendenon have lifetime batting averages of .280, and are right-handed hitters.

See Possible Player Strike In Baseball

NEW YORK (AP) — Major league baseball players will hold a special meeting in New York Monday, Feb. 3, to decide whether to carry out a threatened strike for higher pension benefits.

The players voted 461 to 6 last week to reject the club owners' offer to increase contributions to the pension fund by $1 million for a total of $5.1 million.

Marvin Miller, executive director of the Major League Baseball Players Association, announced Wednesday the situation had reached an impasse and that several players from each club will attend the Feb. 3 meeting to determine a course of action.

Many top stars, including Willie Mays, Mickey Mantle, Bob Gibson and Carl Yastrzemski, have endorsed the Association's policy of not signing 1969 contracts until a satisfactory benefit plan is worked out.

Spring training is scheduled to begin next month and indications are that unsigned players will not report unless a pension agreement is reached.

In a prepared statement, Miller charged the owners with mounting a national campaign to undermine the Players' Association. He said, "If ever there was an industry hell bent on its own destruction it is, unfortunately, that of the 'great national pastime.'"

Wittenberg, Miami Lose First Conference Games

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Ohio's only undefeated college basketball team, Wittenberg, saw its victory string snapped Wednesday night by Ashland's ball control, and Miami, previously unbeaten in the Mid-American Conference, was bumped by MAC foe Western Michigan.

Ashland, the stingiest team in the nation on defense, dropped Wittenberg 35-28. In the Mid-Am Western downed Miami 71-66 while Bowling Green came from behind to nip Toledo 64-63.

Western Michigan improved its MAC record to 2-2 behind Gene Ford's 23-point, 15-rebound performance.

Cleveland Barons Defeat Baltimore

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP) — Wayne Schultz scored two second period goals as the Cleveland Barons defeated Baltimore, 5-2, in an American Hockey League game Wednesday night, snapping the Clippers' six-game unbeaten string on the road.

Howie Glover scored a tie-breaking second period goal on a pass from Rey Comeau after a face-off at the Baltimore end of the rink.

Ashland, now 15-1, took an early 9-2 lead then coasted, keeping the ball away from the Tigers, now 10-1. Jim Thrasher scored half of Wittenberg's points—14. John Savage led Ashland with 11.

Western Michigan improved its MAC record to 2-2 behind Gene Ford's 23-point, 15-rebound performance.

Mike McGrath Leads PBA Showboat Tilt

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP) — Mike McGrath, 22, of El Cerrito, Calif., took a four-pin lead into today's round of the Professional Bowlers Association $60,000 Showboat Invitational after a first day scorcher of 2748.

Skee Foremsky of El Paso, Tex., gave McGrath the most competition Wednesday with his 2744. Ed Bourdase of Fresno, Calif., came in third with 2695.

performance. Miami dropped to 5-1 in the conference but held on to first place. Walt Williams and Tom Slater had 14 points apiece for the Redskins.

Toledo led, at one time by 12 points, until Bowling Green caught fire late in the second half. The Falcons took the lead, 62-61, with 1:52 remaining and iced their second Mid-Am victory in four starts with a pair of foul shots. Jim Penix led BG with 19 points.

Steve Mix sank a goal at the buzzer for the Rockets, giving him 27 points for the game and 1,341 for his three-year career, highest in the school's history. Toledo is 2-3 in the conference.

Wilmington disposed of Mid-Ohio Conference foe Malone 66-55 and Youngstown put away Cleveland State 73-68. Ohio Northern put all five starters in double figures for its 84-72 win over Defiance.

Denny McLain AP's Male Athlete Of Year

NEW YORK (AP) — Denny McLain, the flamboyant Detroit pitcher who is equally at home standing on a mound or sitting at an organ, was named today Male Athlete of the Year in the 38th annual Associated Press poll.

Continuing recent domination by baseball players of the year-end award, McLain became the fourth in succession and the seventh in the last eight polls to find himself sitting on top of the sports world.

In those eight years only Don Schollander, the swimming star of America's 1964 Olympic team, has managed to break baseball's hold on the award. But no Olympian from the 1968 U.S. team or such an outstanding college football player as O.J. Simpson, the Heisman Trophy winner from Southern California, was able to overshadow McLain's exploits both on and off the field during the 1968 season.

For the 24-year-old right-hander conducted a delicate balancing act during the entire season, pitching baseballs with one hand and playing the organ with two. He received acclaim for the former, notoriety for the latter and money for both.

And, when the season had ended, McLain had posted 31 victories—becoming the first pitcher to reach the 30-victory plateau since Dizzy Dean in 1934—and was on his way to a Las Vegas opening dress in mink.

In the balloting by sports writers and broadcasters, McLain was rewarded with 108 first-place votes and amassed a total of 517 points on the basis of three points for first place, two for second and one for third.

Only three other athletes received more than 200 points—Simpson, pitcher Bob Gibson of the St. Louis Cardinals and quarterback Earl Morrall of the Baltimore Colts, the only pro football player able to crack the Top Ten.

The poll, however, was taken before the Super Bowl game, which will become a part of the 1969 voting, and therefore does not reflect the stunning upset pulled off by quarterback Joe Namath in leading the New York Jets to a 16-7 victory over the Colts.

Simpson, the workhorse running back who almost certainly will be selected by the Buffalo Bills as the No. 1 pick in next week's pro football draft, was the runner-up in the voting with 64 first and 423 points.

Gibson, despite beating McLain in two World Series confrontations, finished a distant third with 57 firsts and 302 points. Morrall, who led the Colts to the National Football League championship in place of injured Johnny Unitas, received 39 first and 240 points.

Rounding out the Top Ten were discus thrower Al Oerter,

180 points; long jumper Bob Beamon, 111; decathlon star Bill Toomey, 102; hockey star Gordie Howe, 72; skier Jean Claude Killy, 64, and golfer Billy Casper, 49.

Namath, who led the Jets to the American Football League championship, received four first-place votes and 29 points.

Baseball's domination of the poll began in 1961 with Roger Maris. Maury Wills and Sandy Koufax then made it three in a row for the sport before Schollander broke the hold. Koufax, Frank Robinson, Carl Yastrzemski and McLain now have made baseball the first sport to ever have four consecutive winners.

CHS Tigers Face Blue Lions, Westfall In Weekend Tilts

Circleville hosts Washington C.H. Friday in South Central Ohio League play.

The first time the two teams played — at Washington — the Blue Lions won, 75-68.

Washington is the second place team in the league, along with Wilmington, with a 4-2 record. Overall they have won seven games and lost six.

The Blue Lions are presently on a three-game losing streak, their last loss was to The Plains of Mt. Sterling, a class A school.

PACED by Steve Bowers, a 6-3 guard who is averaging nearly 20 points a game, this year's edition of the Blue Lions is scoring over 64 points a game. Opponents are scoring about 62 points a game.

Although Bowers is the high point maker for the Blue Lions, there are several other members of the squad capable of double figure performances.

Lowell Harper, a 6-2 forward, has 116 points for the season. Bucky Burbage has tossed in a total of 107 points and Herbie Sollars 110.

Washington is one of the taller teams in the league. Sollars, the center, is 6 feet 6 inches tall. Harper is 6-2 and Burbage 6-3.

Circleville is averaging 10 points a game less than its opposition. The Tigers have been hitting the nets at a 64.2 clip while the opponents this season are averaging 74.

Dave Horst has proven to be a steady performer for the Red and Black and is currently the team's leading scorer. His season total is 177 points.

His best performance of the year was against Greenfield last week, when he pitched in 24 markers.

Randy Halley has a 13 point average for the Tigers, although he was scoreless against Greenfield. Charlie Jackson is the third leading scorer for Circleville, with a 127 point

Will Namath Quit Football?

NEW YORK (AP) — Was the Super Bowl Joe Namath's super farewell to professional football?

The brilliant quarterback, who predicted that the New York Jets would beat the Baltimore Colts in the Super Bowl and made good his boast, wasn't talking Wednesday—at least on that topic.

"I'm very happy with my life as it is right now," Namath said at a City Hall tribute to the Jets. But he also said:

"Jimmy Brown got out while he was still healthy," referring to the Cleveland Browns' star fullback who retired at the peak of his career to become a movie actor. "You want to make it while you're on top—before you get destroyed."

Namath's knees, operated on several times, are a prime source of concern.

The quarterback currently has several business ventures going, including a New York night spot and string of drive-in restaurants. Namath said he has received a number of other offers—some in the show business field—since the Super Bowl and said he would evaluate the situation after returning from a USO-sponsored tour of Far East military installations. He leaves today.

At the City Hall ceremonies, attended by more than 5,000 persons, Namath paid tribute to his teammates, some 15 of whom were in attendance.

"I've been reading about everything I did," he said, "and I did play good. But if it wasn't for these fellows, where would I be? Everything's a team thing. Believe that, it's a 40-50-man thing."

total. In recent games the sharpshooting Jackson has been the Tigers' "sixth man," coming off the bench when the CHS scoring punch needed bolstering.

Phil Diehl has been starting since the Hillsboro game. Although he had scored only one point in the first five games, he has pitched in 98 since earning a starting role, an average of 14 per tilt.

Ty Ankrom and Dave Hopkins, the other two starters on the Tiger quintet, are averaging about seven points a game.

Other South Central Ohio League games Friday pit Hillsboro, the bottom team in the loop, against Miami Trace, the top team, on Trace's floor, and Wilmington against Greenfield in the small McClain gymnasium.

Circleville's Saturday game will probably draw more interest locally than will the league tilt.

WESTFALL won the first game between the two schools by a 19 point margin.

The Mustangs will be coming off a critical Scioto Valley Conference game on Friday on which a championship rides.

LA Stars Trip Oaks, 123-121

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
The Oakland Oaks, who waited so long for Rick Barry to join them, did perfectly well without him until George Stone ruined their 16-game winning streak.

Stone's 22-foot jumper brought the Los Angeles Stars a 123-121 victory over the Oaks at Los Angeles Wednesday night, ending their 16-game winning streak.

The Oaks, galloping off with the Western Division of the American Basketball Association, were 25-4 when Barry suffered a knee injury Dec. 27.

But without Barry, who had to sit out a year before joining Oakland, the Oaks compiled a 10-0 mark until Stone took a pass with three seconds left while his coach, Bill Sharman, pleaded for a time out, and dropped in the winner. He finished with 31 points.

Denver thus cut Oakland's lead to 10 games with a 124-103 victory over the New York Nets at home.

In other games, Kentucky and Indiana remained deadlocked for second place in the East, 3 1/2 games behind idle Minnesota, as the visiting Colonels nudged Dallas 104-102 and the Pacers routed Miami 140-117 at Indianapolis. New Orleans stopped Houston 121-117 at Houston in the other game.

In the National Basketball Association, Detroit edged the Los Angeles Lakers 116-115, Seattle surprised Baltimore 98-94, Atlanta bombed Phoenix 125-107, Chicago upset Boston 95-94 and Philadelphia outlasted the New York Knicks 140-137 in two overtimes.

Esposito Leads In NHL Scoring

CHICAGO (AP) — A Christmas poke in the jaw, among other things, has the five-year stranglehold by Chicago's Bobby Hull and Stan Mikita on the National Hockey League scoring crown in danger of being broken.

At the All-Star game break this week, Boston's Phil Esposito stood five points ahead of runnerup Hull, the wire-jawed Golden Jet, and 12 points ahead of fourth-place Mikita, slumping defending champion.

It was the first time since Dec. 5, 1967, that neither Mikita, scoring titlist four of the past five seasons, nor Hull, goal-making champ the past three seasons, has led the NHL point race.

Skating Canceled

FLIN, Mich. (AP) — An Olympic-style speedskating championship scheduled in Flint this weekend has been canceled because of warm weather. The meet was to have featured about 70 of the top men and women speedskaters in the United States.

Astros Trade Staub For Alou And Clendenon

HOUSTON (AP) — When the Houston Astros finished in the National League cellar last season General Manager H. B. "Spec" Richardson said there were "no untouchables" on the squad.

He proved it Wednesday when he announced that Rusty Staub, the Astros' top hitter, had been traded to the new National League Montreal club for first baseman Donn Clendenon and outfielder Jesus Alou.

Clendenon and Alou were the third and fourth major league players to be acquired in trades by Houston since the end of the 1968 season. Previously acquired were catcher John Edwards from the St. Louis Cardinals and Curt Blefary from the Baltimore Orioles.

Richardson said there could be even more trades.

The popular Staub, one of Houston's first big bonus players in 1961, hit .291 last season. He finished with a .533 average in 1967 after leading the National League for a good portion of the season.

The 24-year-old redhead, who plays both first base and right field, had a .273 lifetime batting average in six seasons.

Alou and Clendenon went to Montreal in the recent expansion draft. Alou from the San Francisco Giants and Clendenon from the Pittsburgh Pirates. Alou, 25, hit .263 with the Giants. Clendenon, 33, hit .257 for the Pirates.

Both Alou and Clendenon have lifetime batting averages of .280, and are right-handed hitters.

See Possible Player Strike In Baseball

NEW YORK (AP) — Major league baseball players will hold a special meeting in New York Monday, Feb. 3, to decide whether to carry out a threatened strike for higher pension benefits.

The players voted 461 to 6 last week to reject the club owners' offer to increase contributions to the pension fund by $1 million for a total of $5.1 million.

Marvin Miller, executive director of the Major League Baseball Players Association, announced Wednesday the situation had reached an impasse and that several players from each club will attend the Feb. 3 meeting to determine a course of action.

Many top stars, including Willie Mays, Mickey Mantle, Bob Gibson and Carl Yastrzemski, have endorsed the Association's policy of not signing 1969 contracts until a satisfactory benefit plan is worked out.

Spring training is scheduled to begin next month and indications are that unsigned players will not report unless a pension agreement is reached.

In a prepared statement, Miller charged the owners with mounting a national campaign to undermine the Players' Association. He said, "If ever there was an industry hell bent on its own destruction it is, unfortunately, that of the 'great national pastime.'"

VICTORIA, B.C. (AP) — Russia's national hockey team whipped the Canadian national team 8-3 Wednesday night for the Russians' third straight victory on their Canadian tour.

Wittenberg, Miami Lose First Conference Games

By HE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Ohio's only undefeated college basketball team, Wittenberg, saw its victory string snapped Wednesday night by Ashland's ball control, and Miami, previously unbeaten in the Mid-American Conference, was bumped by MAC foe Western Michigan.

Ashland, the stingiest team in the nation on defense, dropped Wittenberg 35-28. In the Mid-Am Western downed Miami 71-66 while Bowling Green came from behind to nip Toledo 64-63.

Cleveland Barons Defeat Baltimore

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP) — Wayne Schultz scored two second period goals as the Cleveland Barons defeated Baltimore, 5-2, in an American Hockey League game Wednesday night, snapping the Clippers' six-game unbeaten string on the road.

Howie Glover scored a tie-breaking second period goal on a pass from Rey Comeau after a face-off at the Baltimore end of the rink.

Ashland, now 15-1, took an early 9-2 lead then coasted, keeping the ball away from the Tigers, now 10-1. Jim Thrasher scored half of Wittenberg's points—14. John Savage led Ashland with 11.

Western Michigan improved its MAC record to 2-2 behind Gene Ford's 23-point, 15-rebound performance. Miami dropped to 5-1 in the conference but held on to first place. Walt Williams and Tom Slater had 14 points apiece for the Redskins.

Toledo led, at one time by 38 points, until Bowling Green caught fire late in the second half. The Falcons took the lead, 62-61, with 1:32 remaining and iced their second Mid-Am victory in four starts with a pair of foul shots. Jim Penix led BG with 19 points.

Steve Mix sank a goal at the buzzer for the Rockets, giving him 27 points for the game and 1,341 for his three-year career, highest in the school's history. Toledo is 2-3 in the conference.

Wilmington disposed of Mid-Ohio Conference foe Malone 69-55 and Youngstown put away Cleveland State 73-68. Ohio Northern put all five starters in double figures for its 84-72 win over Defiance.

Mike McGrath Leads PBA Showboat Tilt

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP) — Mike McGrath, 22, of El Cerrito, Calif., took a four-pin lead into today's round of the Professional Bowlers Association $60,000 Showboat Invitational after a first day scorching of 2748.

Skee Foremsky of El Paso, Tex., gave McGrath the most competition Wednesday with his 2744. Ed Bourdase of Fresno, Calif., came in third with 2695.

Sleeping Like Sardines?

Eight out of ten couples still try to sleep on a standard double bed mattress. Yet, for most people, this size is as old fashioned as high button shoes—it's just too small to give them the room they need for proper rest.

Super Size Beautyrest is the answer. The unique construction of this mattress assures two people of single-bed comfort in a double bed... because the springs are separate, work independently, won't sag. Even the heaviest husband can't disturb his wife's sleep.

Let the sardines sleep like sardines. But why don't you visit our bedding department and look at a Super Size Beautyrest. Take your choice of firm or extra firm... tufted or quilted... and get the size that fits your needs.

Denny McLain AP's Male Athlete Of Year

NEW YORK (AP) — Denny McLain, the flamboyant Detroit pitcher who is equally at home standing on a mound or sitting at an organ, was named today Male Athlete of the Year in the 38th annual Associated Press poll.

Continuing recent domination by baseball players of the year-end award, McLain became the fourth in succession and the seventh in the last eight polls to find himself sitting on top of the sports world.

In those eight years only Don Schollander, the swimming star of America's 1964 Olympic team, has managed to break baseball's hold on the award.

But no Olympian from the 1968 U.S. team or such an outstanding college football player as O.J. Simpson, the Heisman Trophy winner from Southern California, was able to overshadow McLain's exploits both on and off the field during the 1968 season.

For the 24-year-old right-hander conducted a delicate balancing act during the entire season, pitching baseballs with one hand and playing the organ with two. He received acclaim for the former, notoriety for the latter and money for both.

And, when the season had ended, McLain had posted 31 victories—becoming the first pitcher to reach the 30-victory plateau since Dizzy Dean in 1934—and was on his way to a link. In the balloting by sports writers and broadcasters, McLain was rewarded with 108 first-place votes and amassed a total of 517 points on the basis of three points for first place, two for second and one for third.

Only three other athletes received more than 200 points—Simpson, pitcher Bob Gibson of the St. Louis Cardinals and quarterback Earl Morrall of the Baltimore Colts, the only pro football player able to crack the Top Ten.

The poll, however, was taken before the Super Bowl game, which will become a part of the 1969 voting, and therefore does not reflect the stunning upset pulled off by quarterback Joe Namath in leading the New York Jets to a 16-7 victory over the Colts.

Simpson, the workhorse running back who almost certainly will be selected by the Buffalo Bills as the No. 1 pick in next week's pro football draft, was the runner-up in the voting with 64 first and 423 points.

Gibson, despite beating McLain in two World Series confrontations, finished a distant third with 57 firsts and 302 points. Morrall, who led the Colts to the National Football League championship in place of injured Johnny Unitas, received 39 first and 240 points.

Rounding out the Top Ten were discus thrower Al Oerter,

180 points; long jumper Bob Beamon, 111; decathlon star Bill Toomey, 102; hockey star Gordie Howe, 72; skier Jean Claude Killy, 64, and golfer Billy Casper, 49.

Namath, who led the Jets to the American Football League championship, received four first-place votes and 29 points.

Baseball's domination of the poll began in 1961 with Roger Maris. Maury Wills and Sandy Koufax then made it three in a row for the sport before Schollander broke the hold. Koufax, Frank Robinson, Carl Yastrzemski and McLain now have made baseball the first sport to ever have four consecutive winners.

Villanova Beats Detroit, 93-71

By HERSCHEL NISSENSEN
Associated Press Sports Writer

Guess who won the Spencer Haywood-Howard Porter battle? Johnny Jones, that's who.

A sellout crowd turned out at the Philadelphia Palestra Wednesday night to watch two of the country's most highly touted sophomores—Haywood of Detroit and Porter of Villanova go at each other.

But when the shooting died down it turned out to be Jones and zones that told the story as Villanova, ranked 11th in The Associated Press college basketball poll, ran away with a 93-71 victory.

Villanova led 46-45 with 15:42 left to play but the Wildcats suddenly went on a 25-5 tear over the next six minutes to wrap things up. Porter had 11 points during that stretch and Jones six.

Jones, a 6-foot-4 senior from Pompano Beach, Fla., finished with 37 points, a career high, 22 of them in the first half, as Villanova ran its record to 12-2. He also had 12 rebounds. Porter added 28 while Olympic hero Haywood, held to 12 points in the first 30 minutes, wound up with 25.

Villanova clamped one of Coach Jack Kraft's patented sagging zones around Haywood.

"I'd like to think that our zone had something to do with stopping him," Kraft said—and the Titans were unable to penetrate it with much success.

The only other ranked team to see action was No. 9 La Salle, which turned back upset-minded Pennsylvania 78-64 in the second half of the Palestra twin bill.

The Explorers, 13-1, made 36 of 40 free throws to score a come-from-behind victory over the Ivy Leaguers, who had stunned Villanova last week.

SPORTS Highlights

NEW YORK (AP) — Joseph C. Dey Jr., the most influential golf figure in the United States, is leaving his long-time job as executive director of the U.S. Golf Association to become commissioner of the rich pro tour.

The exact date of Dey's switch has not been determined but may be announced when the USGA holds its annual meeting here this weekend.

DAYTON, Ohio (AP) — Don Westbrooke scored a hat trick in the first period of Wednesday night's game to lead Dayton to a 7-4 International Hockey League victory over Des Moines.

Westbrooke, the league's leading scorer with 76 points, helped the Gems take over sole possession of first place in the IHL, one point ahead of idle Toledo.

TORONTO (AP) — The Toronto Argonauts of the Canadian Football League Wednesday announced the signing of back James Franklin "Dickie" Moore of Western Kentucky University.

Coach Leo Cahill said Moore, 22, has been given a two-year contract and a bonus for signing. "We've been in touch with him since his sophomore year. We signed him right after the semester break. I went down personally to talk to him."

Favor Fort Nelson

YONKERS, N.Y. (AP) — Fort Nelson was made the early 5-2 favorite today for the $25,000 final in the Snowball Pacing Series at Yonkers Raceway Saturday night.

Kirwan Re-Elected Committee Chairman

WASHINGTON (AP) — Rep. Michael J. Kirwan of Ohio was re-elected Wednesday to head the House Democratic Congressional Committee. Kirwan has headed the committee since 1948.

The group, which handles campaign financing and planning for Democratic candidates for the House, began work immediately on raising funds for the 1970 congressional elections.

Gun Identification Cards Ruled Legal

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP) — Toledo's ordinance which requires citizens to purchase an identification card in order to buy or possess a handgun was ruled constitutional Wednesday in Common Pleas Court here.

Judge John Connors ruled that the law is a "valid exercise of police power under home rule provisions of the city charter."

with a slowdown game.

La Salle ran off 15 straight points in the second half to seal the triumph. Larry Cannon took scoring honors with 21 points, 18 in the second half.

There was only a smattering of major games elsewhere across the nation.

Calvin Murphy of Niagara, the nation's second leading scorer, was held to 22 points, his season's low, but the Purple Eagles got by Buffalo 79-76. Murphy's three free throws, one thanks to a technical foul against Buffalo Coach Len Seferini—put Niagara ahead to stay 69-68.

Gary Brown's free throw with six seconds left enabled Westminster of Pennsylvania to edge Pitt 65-64. Terry Driscoll's 28 points and 18 rebounds paced Boston College over Seton Hall 84-56 in the Eagles' first game since Coach Bob Cousy announced he would retire at season's end.

Bowling Green trailed Toledo until the final two minutes when Dan McLemore's rebound basket and two foul shots by Dick Rudgers gave the Falcons a 64-63 Mid-American Conference victory.

In another Mid-American clash, Western Michigan piled up an 11-point lead and then held off league-leading Miami of Ohio 71-66. Toke Coleman and Bobby Washington scored 21 points apiece as Eastern Kentucky downed Virginia Tech 73-65.

Cincinnati Royals Set Halls Of Fame

CINCINNATI (AP) — One of five outstanding former Cincinnati Royals and another retired player from five National Basketball Association stars will be chosen for separate Halls of Fame set up by the Royals.

The team has established a Royals' Hall of Fame and another for Cincinnati opponents. Nominated for the Royals are Jack Twyman, Maurice Stokes, Arlen Bockhorn, Clyde Lovellette and Dave Piontek.

Three former Boston Celtic standouts — Bob Cousy, Frank Ramsey and Bill Sharman — have been nominated for the opponents along with Bob Pettit of St. Louis and Dolph Schayes of Syracuse.

Fans will select one player from each category at a future game.

Seek Suspension Of Boxing Referee

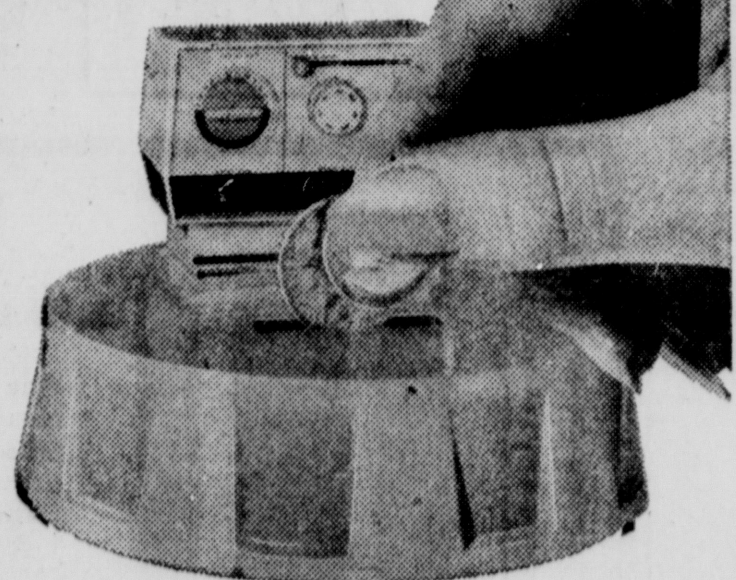

MADRID (AP) — The Spanish Boxing Federation said today it plans to ask the World Boxing Council to suspend George Smith, the Scottish referee, who ruled Johnny Famenchon of Australia the winner over Spain's Jose Legra in their world featherweight title bout Tuesday.

Roberto Duque, president of the federation, said Smith had committed a great mistake in his decision.

Ashville News Report

Mrs. John Sabine — 983-7831

The Everfaithful Class of the Zion United Methodist Church will meet Thursday, Jan. 23, at 7:30 p.m. in the home of Mrs. Verna Remy, North Long Street.

Mr. George Kuhlwein Sr. is a patient in room 900 at Grant Hospital, Columbus. Mr. Kuhlwein entered the hospital last Friday and is now undergoing treatment and tests.

Cub Scout Pack No. 159 will meet in the Zion United Methodist Church Thursday evening, Jan. 23. The annual Pinewood Derby will be held.

The Pythian Sisters of Ashville Temple No. 366 and the Knights of Pythias of Palmetto Lodge No. 513 held a joint public installation of Officers at the K of P Hall on Wednesday, January 15.

Past Grand Chief, Francine Peters, was the toast mistress for the evening. The flag was presented by Bob Featheringham and the Bible opened by Candy Miller. Steve Cook gave the invocation.

A vocal solo "Someone Bigger Than You and I" was presented by Mona Morrison.

Mr. Ed Irwin, a member of Palmetto Lodge gave the welcome and District Deputy Madge Baum gave the response.

Serving as Installing Officer for the Sisters was Arlene Fortner. Assisting her was Hazel Thomas of Amanda, Grand Senior and Marilyn Sabine, Grand Manager. Officers installed were Past Chief Mona Morrison, Most Excellent Chief Mary Helen Miller, Excellent Senior Janet Cline, Excellent Junior Candy Miller, Manager Shirley Thomason, Secretary Fern Lutz, Treasurer Joan Kennedy, Protector Shirley Rathburn, Guard Mary Ann Miller and Musician Gladys Rush. Carolyn Peters served as musician for both the Sisters and Knights installations. The Bible was then closed by Janet Cline.

The Installing Officers for the Knights were then presented. Alva Harris, Grand Secretary, was the installing officer. Frank Woodward acted as Grand Master-at-Arms and Robert Denman as Grand Prelate. Both are from Circleville Phillos Lodge.

Installed were Chancellor Commander. John Swingle. Vice Chancellor Robert Featheringham, Prelate Gary Fortner, Master of Work, Frank Hudson, Secretary Benis Lutz, Financial Secretary Carl Bumgarner, Master of Arms Joe Peters, Inner Guard Ray Henson and Outer Guard Don Rathburn.

Preceding the Knights Installation the Bible was opened by Bob Featheringham.

Distinguished guests introduced were Past Grand Chief and Royal Advisor of The Sunshine Girls, Francine Peters; District Deputy Madge Baum; Grand Secretary Alva Harris; Grand Treasurer Frank Hudson; Grand Outer Guard Frank Woodward; District Deputies Madge Baum and Loren Beck; Past Royal Princess of the Sunshine Girls Lonnie Huffman; and Most Excellent Chief Geneva Woodward and Chancellor Commander Milo Wise both of Circleville.

The Bible was closed by Gary Fortner and the flag retired by Joe Peters. Steve Cook gave the benediction.

Refreshments of salads, sandwiches, chips, punch and coffee were served by the Sisters.

Conrad Reese is a patient in Doctors Hospital, Dennison Avenue, Columbus. Mr. Reese suffered a skull fracture and concussion when involved in a car-truck accident on Route 23 two weeks ago.

Mr. Guy Leatherwood has returned to his home after being hospitalized at Grant Hospital.

Mrs. Glenn Rader is a surgical patient at University Hospital, Columbus. She expects to return home this week.

Groups Oppose Rhodes Proposal

CANTON, Ohio (AP)—A recent proposal by Gov. James A. Rhodes to strip state universities of their branches and academic centers is drawing strong opposition from students and faculty members at Kent State University's Stark County branch here.

The branch's citizens advisory committee has called a special meeting for Friday to discuss the proposal.

A petition is being circulated by the student government among the 1,900 students asking that administration of the branch be continued under the jurisdiction of Kent State.

Traffic Crash Brings Drug Arrest

CINCINNATI (AP)—A Cincinnati youth injured in a traffic accident Wednesday ended up being charged with possession of marijuana.

David Ward, 21, was taken to a hospital after the accident when two packets of marijuana fell from his pockets, police said.

The first bicycle with variable-speed gears was made around 1889.

2. That his men weren't issued small arms.

Q. Bowen: "How about small arms for the men?"

A. Bucher: "Small arms were issued in drills in port and under way, but not on the day of capture."

3. That Bucher waited too long to order destruction of classified equipment and documents.

Bucher testified that he waited until after one boarding attempt by the North Koreans, a sea chase and their first salvo of cannon fire before giving the order.

Until then, Bucher said, he had only ordered preparations for destruction.

He said at least two mattress covers full of documents fell to the Communists.

4. That Bucher failed to realize his incinerator was too small to burn all the documents and he didn't sail into water deep enough for jettisoning them.

"It was a complete oversight on my part," Bucher said.

5. And finally, that he surrendered 81 of the most classified items on his ship when he turned over his men.

Q. Newsome: "Isn't it true that in deciding to surrender your vessel you also decided to surrender some of the most classified items on your ship, your personnel?"

A. Bucher: "Yes sir, that's right."

Bucher, in the first four days, raised these points against his superiors:

1. That they sent him on a dangerous intelligence mission without giving him the explosives he asked for to destroy secret equipment in case he had to.

2. That they failed to meet his request for adequate mounted cannon and gave him two machine guns instead, along with the mount for a third gun he never received.

3. That he messaged repeated pleas for help when he was attacked—even directed messages to the White House—without getting any aid.

4. That at no time did he receive radioed advice or guidance from superiors about what action to take.

5. That he was given inadequate communications, both on the ship in the form of an Army telephone system insufficient in emergencies, and between his ship and Naval headquarters in Japan because of improper radio frequency synchronization.

"I had no confidence in it," he testified.

6. That he was given a steering system that failed more than 60 times in two weeks before it was finally repaired in Hawaii.

Pueblo Radio Messages To Japan Released

CORONADO, Calif. (AP)—The USS Pueblo held a running message exchange with the headquarters of the commander of naval forces in Japan during her seizure by North Korean gunboats.

Unclassified parts of the exchange—were read Wednesday into the record of the Navy's court of inquiry into the Pueblo captured.

As read by E. Miles Harvey, civilian attorney for the Pueblo skipper, Cmdr. Lloyd M. Bucher, the exchange follows:

Headquarters: Sorry mate, kind of a boot on this circuit. What time do you want next sked?

Stokes Backers Plan Banquet

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP)—Two dozen community leaders announced Wednesday a drive to draft Mayor Carl B. Stokes for a second term and also provide him with some campaign funds.

Dr. Robert W. Morse, president of Case Western Reserve University said the "Salute to Mayor Stokes Committee" would hold a $100-a-plate banquet March 6 at the Hotel Sheraton-Cleveland.

Dr. Morse, who heads the committee, said should Stokes be unopposed or decide not to run the group would decide on a "philanthropic" use for the campaign funds.

here. "We still got company."

P: Who is on duty now? This is Bailey. Got more company outside and more coming.

P: It not too bad out here, but lonely. We been here two weeks now and that not bad but when we get under way it gets so rough that you can't do anything, so I will be glad to get back and I sure could use some liberty now. That part starting to get rough now. Didn't think I would miss the old lady so much.

P: It is worse out here now. Got more company and not doing so good with them.

HQ: Know what you mean 'bout that company and will stay on so you can come to me. They plan to open fire on us now. They plan to open fire on us now.

P: North Korean war vessels plan to open fire (and the ships' position).

P: We are being boarded. We are being boarded. We are being boarded. We are being boarded. SOS, SOS, SOS, SOS, (repeated 30 times and followed by ship's position).

Bucher interrupted the reading at this point to the report of boarding was in fact an error. He said it was surmised by the radioman, who had been told a boarding party was approaching, but Bucher said he maneuvered the Pueblo away from that boarding party and North Koreans didn't come on board until after the ship was fired upon and chased in the sea.

P: We are holding emergency destruction (of classified equipment and documents).

We need help. We are holding emergency destruction we need support. SOS, SOS, SOS. Please send assistance. SOS, SOS, SOS, SOS.

P: Please send assistance.

P: We are now being escorted into probably Wonsan, Wonsan Wonsan.

P: Are you sending assistance? (repeated three times)

HQ: Word has gone to all authorities. Commander naval forces Japan is requesting assistance, what key list (of classified material) do you have left. Please advise if it appears your communication spaces will be entered.

P: Have been requested to follow into Wonsan. Have three wounded and one man with leg blown off. Have not used any weapons nor uncovered 50-caliber machine guns. Destroying all key listed and as much electronic equipment as possible.

How about some help? These guys mean business. Have sustained small wound in rectum. Do not intend to offer any resistance. Do not know how long will be able to hold on circuit and do not know if communication spaces will be entered.

HQ: Roger, roger, we doing all we can. Commander of naval forces for Japan on hotline. Last I got was Air Force gonna help you with some aircraft but can't really say as commander coordinating with I presume Korean force for some F105s, but this is unofficial, but I think that's what will happen. On the air as long as you can. We staying right with you.

P: Roger, will keep this (circuit) up until the last minute and sure could use some help now.

HQ: Roger, roger, we still with you and doing all we can.

Letter To The Editor

EDITOR'S NOTE — We welcome letters to the editor. In order to be considered for publication, they must bear the correct name and address of the writer. Dear Editor: This being National Jaycee Week I would like to take this opportunity to thank our own Circleville Jaycees for their efforts and help given to Ohio's First 4-H Aviation Club, which happens to be in Pickaway County.

Due to foul weather our planned community project did not turn out as successful as we would have liked, but the Jaycees donated two Sundays to the Aviation 4-H Club despite the foul weather.

On behalf of our club members and assistant advisors, I say, "Thank you" to the Circleville Jaycees.

LOUIS MCFARLAND
Aviation 4-H adviser

Everyone really turning to (trying) and figure by now Air Force got some birds winging your way.

P: Sure hope so. We're pretty bush with this destruction right now. Can't see for the smoke.

HQ: Roger, roger. Wish I could help more. All information you passed being sent to area commander and they in turn coordinating for whatever action gotta be taken. Sure process already being initiated for some immediate relief. Commander naval forces Japan got all info.

P: Roger your last and sure hope someone does something. We are helpless. Cannot do anything but wait.

HQ: Who I got that end of circuit? What status of classified material left to destroy?

P: We have K2, KW7 and some care cards. The 3 and 14 left to smash. Think that just about it.

P: Destruction of publications has been ineffective. Suspect several will be compromised.

HQ: Can you give me a list of what you haven't destroyed? Can you give me list of what you haven't destroyed?

P: Have been directed to come to all stop and being boarded. Being boarded.

HQ: Roger. Your last on way to commander naval forces Japan.

P: Got four men injured and one critically and going off the air now and destroying this gear.

GOOD YEAR CUSTOM WIDE TREAD!

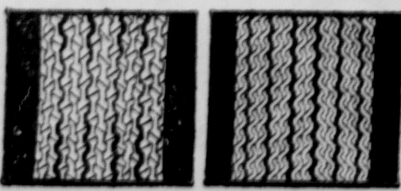

Conventional tire parts flex under load. Tread squirms... rubs off like an eraser on paper.

The Polyglas tire sidewalls flex... but the belt plies hold the tread firm... less squirm... more mileage.

The tread of conventional tires tends to squeeze and close up under load. The gripping action of the tread loses its effectiveness.

The tread grooves of the Polyglas tire are more open... enabling the tread to grip better on wet or dry roads.

870-14 tubeless white or red stripe plus $1.96 Fed. Ex. Tax and old tire. Sizes to fit most cars in stock now!

Two plies of giant-size "Vytacord" Polyester Cord For the smooth, no-thump ride of rayon combined with the strength and durability of nylon. Vytacord — polyester cord specifically developed for tires.

Two belts of Fiberglass Cord Holds the tread firm on the road...resists squirm...reduces rub-off wear...improves mileage. Pound for pound, fiberglass is stronger than steel—extra protection against bruise damage in the crown area.

Low Profile Design Utilizes the same type low, broad characteristics of racing tires to produce greater stability and better steering control in the turns and on curves.

Wider Tread Up to 2" wider than conventional tires—puts more rubber on the road for sure-footed stops and starts on wet or dry pavements.

Improved "Tufsyn" Rubber A new, improved, long-wearing Tufsyn rubber, toughest rubber Goodyear ever used in tires, adds stamina for mileage and muscular body strength.

Ashville News Report

Mrs. John Sabine — 983-7831

The Everfaithful Class of the Zion United Methodist Church will meet Thursday, Jan. 23, at 7:30 p.m. in the home of Mrs. Verna Remy, North Long Street.

Mr. George Kuhlwein Sr. is a patient in room 900 at Grant Hospital, Columbus. Mr. Kuhlwein entered the hospital last Friday and is now undergoing treatment and tests.

Cub Scout Pack No. 159 will meet in the Zion United Methodist Church Thursday evening, Jan. 23. The annual Pinewood Derby will be held.

The Pythian Sisters of Ashville Temple No. 366 and the Knights of Pythias of Palmetto Lodge No. 513 held a joint public installation of Officers at the K of P Hall on Wednesday, January 15.

Past Grand Chief, Francine Peters, was the toast mistress for the evening. The flag was presented by Bob Featheringham and the Bible opened by Candy Miller. Steve Cook gave the invocation.

A vocal solo "Someone Bigger Than You and I" was presented by Mona Morrison.

Mr. Ed Irwin, a member of Palmetto Lodge gave the welcome and District Deputy Marge Baum gave the response.

Serving as Installing Officer for the Sisters was Arlene Fortner. Assisting her was Hazel Thomas of Amanda, Grand Senior and Marilyn Sabine, Grand Manager. Officers installed were Past Chief Mona Morrison, Most Excellent Chief Mary Helen Miller, Excellent Senior Janet Cline, Excellent Junior Candy Miller, Manager Shirley Thompson, Secretary Fern Lutz, Treasurer Joan Kennedy, Protector Shirley Rathburn, Guard Mary Ann Miller and Musician Gladys Rush. Carolyn Peters served as musician for both the Sisters and Knights installations. The Bible was then closed by Janet Cline.

The Installing Officers for the Knights were then presented. Alva Harris, Grand Secretary, was the installing officer. Frank Woodward acted as Grand Master-at-Arms and Robert Denman as Grand Prelate. Both are from Circleville Philis Lodge.

Installed were Chancellor Commander, John Swingle. Vice Chancellor Robert Featheringham, Prelate Gary Fortner, Master of Work, Frank Hudson, Secretary Benis Lutz, Financial Secretary Carl Bumgarner, Master of Arms Joe Peters, Inner Guard Ray Henson and Outer Guard Don Rathburn.

Preceding the Knights Installation the Bible was opened by Bob Featheringham.

Distinguished guests introduced were Past Grand Chief and Royal Advisor of The Sunshine Girls, Francine Peters; Grand Senior Hazel Thomas; District Deputy Marge Baum; Grand Secretary Alva Harris; Grand Treasurer Frank Hudson; Grand Outer Guard Frank Woodward; District Deputies Marge Baum and Loren Beck; Past Royal Princess of the Sunshine Girls Lonnie Huffman; and Most Excellent Chief Geneva Woodward and Chancellor Commander Milo Wise both of Circleville.

The Bible was closed by Gary Fortner and the flag retired by Joe Peters. Steve Cook gave the benediction.

Refreshments of salads, sandwiches, chips, punch and coffee were served by the Sisters.

Conrad Roese is a patient in Doctors Hospital, Dennison Avenue, Columbus. Mr. Roese suffered a skull fracture and concussion when involved in a car-truck accident on Route 23 two weeks ago.

Mr. Guy Leatherwood has returned to his home after being hospitalized at Grant Hospital.

Mrs. Glenn Rader is a surgical patient at University Hospital, Columbus. She expects to return home this week.

Groups Oppose Rhodes Proposal

CANTON, Ohio (AP)—A recent proposal by Gov. James A. Rhodes to strip state universities of their branches and academic centers is drawing strong opposition from students and faculty members at Kent State University's Stark County branch here.

The branch's citizens advisory committee has called a special meeting for Friday to discuss the proposal. A petition is being circulated by the student government among the 1,900 students asking that administration of the branch be continued under the jurisdiction of Kent State.

Traffic Crash Brings Drug Arrest

CINCINNATI (AP)—A Cincinnati youth injured in a traffic accident Wednesday ended up being charged with possession of marijuana.

David Ward, 21, was taken to a hospital after the accident when two packets of marijuana fell from his pockets, police said.

The first bicycle with variable-speed gears was made around 1889.

the position I found myself in that afternoon."

2. That his men weren't issued small arms.

Q. Bowen: "How about small arms for the men?"

A. Bucher: "Small arms were issued in drills in port and under way, but not on the day of capture."

3. That Bucher waited too long to order destruction of classified equipment and documents.

Bucher testified that he waited until after one boarding attempt by the North Koreans, a sea chase and their first salvo of cannon fire before giving the order.

Until then, Bucher said, he had only ordered preparations for destruction.

He said at least two mattress covers full of documents fell to the Communists.

4. That Bucher failed to realize his incinerator was too small to burn all the documents and he didn't sail into water deep enough for jettisoning them.

"It was a complete oversight on my part," Bucher said.

5. And finally, that he surrendered 81 of the most classified items on his ship when he turned over his men.

Q. Newsome: "Isn't it true that in deciding to surrender your vessel you also decided to surrender some of the most classified items on your ship, your personnel?"

A. Bucher: "Yes sir, that's right."

Bucher, in the first four days, raised these points against his superiors:

1. That they sent him on a dangerous intelligence mission without giving him the explosives he asked for to destroy secret equipment in case he had to.

2. That they failed to meet his request for adequate mounted cannon and gave him two machine guns instead, along with the mount for a third gun he never received.

3. That he messaged repeated pleas for help when he was attacked—even directed messages to the White House—without getting any aid.

4. That at no time did he receive radioed advice or guidance from superiors about what action to take.

5. That he was given inadequate communications, both on the ship in the form of an Army telephone system insufficient in emergencies, and between his ship and Naval headquarters in Japan because of improper radio frequency synchronization.

"I had no confidence in it," he testified.

6. That he was given a steering system that failed more than 60 times in two weeks before it was finally repaired in Hawaii.

Pueblo Radio Messages To Japan Released

CORONADO, Calif. (AP)—The USS Pueblo held a running message exchange with the headquarters of the commander of naval forces in Japan during her seizure by North Korean gunboats.

Unclassified parts of the exchange—were read Wednesday into the record of the Navy's court of inquiry into the Pueblo captured.

As read by E. Miles Harvey, civilian attorney for the Pueblo skipper, Cmdr. Lloyd M. Bucher, the exchange follows:

Headquarters: Sorry mate, kind of a boot on this circuit. What time do you want next sked?

Pueblo: This is Bailey

By JOHN F. FISSELL

The Santa House project was started the Christmas of 1961.

The first three years we housed Santa Claus in different downtown buildings and had to pay rent. After these years we decided to build a Santa Claus House, one that was moveable and could be used each year.

In 1961 the first year of the project, Santa's Headquarters was in the old Block Shoe Store on E. Main St. In 1962 it was in the old Merit Shoe Store on E. Main St. (now the Tradition House) in 1963 it was located in the old Schneider Furniture Store on N. Court St.

The first parade consisted of Davis Demons, Santa Claus and his float and the City Fire Truck. Each year it has grown to a full parade the community can be proud of.

In 1964 we carried an excess of $300 in our Santa Claus Project fund and this is when we started. Different companies donated material at cost and with Jaycees' labor, the house was built.

The House is 10 by 25 feet and is built on a trailer which

State Director's Job Listed As Liaison

By TOM ELSEA

The state director of a Jaycee local is the official liaison between the local and the state organization.

The state director along with the local president are the authorized voting delegates at state trustee meetings.

Many Jaycee projects are conducted on a national level and it is this director's job to obtain vital information at all state meetings about new projects which the local might decide to undertake. Many state deadlines must be met and it is the state director's job to inform the local of them.

Also if the local decides to present a resolution or bid to the state organization it is his responsibility to see that the proper steps are taken in submitting it.

THE state director informs the local about proposed resolutions on the state level and carried their vote to the state trustee meetings on these resolutions.

State trustee meetings are held three times a year. The State Jaycee convention is held annually in May.

The state director who is normally appointed by the president, and is most generally the immediate past president has other traditional roles. He will act as an adviser to the president if and when advice is asked for. He also serves on the executive board and is available for assistance to the officers, directors, chairmen, and all the members.

If a Jaycee has ambitions to become a state officer then the office of a state director is a good training ground while he is still a local officer.

Each year we have added to the house; 1965 new wall to wall carpet, drapes, chair. New signs and wooden candy canes for the outside. At the present time we have a total of $800 in the house.

The merchants have been very pleased with the progress on this project and the response for contributions has been wonderful. The cost of the project is approximately $750 per year.

The figures below show the rapid growth of this project and the number of children visiting Santa each year.

1961 — 2,600; 1962 — 3,000; 1963 — 3,500; 1964 — 4,300; (First year for Santa House); 1965 — 5,100; 1966 — 5,400; 1967 — 5,600; and 1968 — 5,800.

Circleville Jaycees were the first to start this project and now all of the surrounding towns have similar projects. The project committee consists of 11 Jaycees. The local Jaycees have received state recognition for the project.

Chairman 1961-67 was John F. Fissell and chairman 1967-68 was Dr. Robert Liggett.

JC President Says Office Is Gratifying

By ASA ELSEA

The presidency of the Circleville Jaycees is a civic office not to be taken lightly.

It is one of the most satisfying civic leadership positions, in my opinion, that any human can attain. The position has a great number of gratifying experiences many of which every young man between the ages of 21-35 can find by joining the Jaycees. These experiences are obtained from civic involvement, community affairs, leadership training and the finest in social functions.

The president of every Jaycee organization throughout the United States must be ever mindful of each of their individual community problems. Every community's needs are different and it is the duty of the local Jaycee president to try and direct his organization to help in these needs. What might be gravely needed in one community may not be at all applicable to ours.

The Circleville Jaycees have made their efforts known in such projects as the Airport Fund Drive, Fairgrounds Aid, Halloween Parade Distinguished Service Awards, and many others in the youth and sports programs and most recently the involvement of placing up new street name signs for our city.

THE presidency also involves one in the meeting and working with some of the fine elected city and county officials. For here is where our future and

110 Contestants In Jr. Track Meet

The Second Annual Junior Champ Track Meet was held June 1, 1968 at Circleville High School field.

There were approximately 110 contestants, according to Archie Ward and Jake Bailey, co-chairmen of the event.

Medals were awarded to the winners in the senior boys division and ribbons to the winners in the girls divisions, and the boys prep and intermediate divisions.

The 110 contestants, which tripled the number of entries the previous year showed evidence of an increased interest in field and track events.

First place winners in the senior boys divisions competed in the State Jaycees Junior Champ meet July 13, 1968. They were Ed Miller who won the 100-yard dash, the 220-yard and the 440-yard dashes; Mel Smith, winner of the 880-yard run; Larry Pusey, winner of the mile; Bob Wilkinson, winner of the 120-yard high hurdles and the high jump; Larry Hamilton, winner of the 180 low hurdles; Jim Samuel, winner of the pole vault and broad jump; Stan Wili, winner of the discus; and Randy Weller, winner of the shotput.

Larry Pusey, local winner of the mile run, placed seventh in the State Meet at Canton.

Fish Story

JOHANNESBURG (AP) — Alan Abraham, 24, had never been fishing before and when he went on his honeymoon to Santa Carolina Island, off the coast of Portuguese Mozambique, he decided to give it a try. He and another non-fisherman, Riels Jurgens, who also comes from Johannesburg, started at the top and went deep sea fishing.

Jurgens hooked the first fish — a 112-pound black marlin. Then Abraham landed a 98 lb. black marlin, believed the third largest caught off the African coast.

Abraham brought the head and tail back to Johannesburg to prove to his friends he wasn't spinning a fishy tale.

District 10 Composed Of 11 Chapters

State Vice President District 10 of the Ohio Jaycees is the organizational link between the chapters in South Central Ohio and the executive committee of the Ohio Jaycees.

There are 11 chapters in District 10. Included are: Chillicothe, Circleville, Gallipolis, Greenfield, Hillsboro, Ironton, Jackson, Portsmouth, Washington C. H., Waverly and Wellston. One round trip to each of these chapters totals 960 miles.

The District 10 vice president will visit each chapter at least three times. One of the visits is for installation of officers and the other two are for evaluation of the chapters and to answer any questions concerning the State Jaycee organization. Also problems which might arise in dealing with the state organization are discussed and carried to the next executive committee meeting by the District vice president.

He is responsible for his chapters meeting various deadlines on chapter growth and individual development. Also he holds five district wide meetings where district business is conducted.

The District vice president is elected by the chapters at their annual Spring District Meeting and he serves for one year.

This position is one of great challenge and great opportunity in leadership development.

RIO DE JANEIRO (AP) — Two Brazilian cities, Sao Paulo and Rio de Janeiro, are among the world's largest in population today, according to the Brazilian Institute of Research.

Sao Paulo has a population of approximately 5,685,000 inhabitants. Rio has 4,207,000. By 1970, the institute reports, Sao Paulo will have more than six million inhabitants, while Rio is expected to have about 4.5 million.

OYF Project Focuses Attention On Agriculture

By WILLIAM J. RICHARDS

The annual search to select and honor America's outstanding young farmers begins — and ends — in your community and the other Jaycee communities across the nation.

Here, in your home town, your local Outstanding Young Farmer project does its work — building better urban-rural relations by increasing urban understanding of the farmer, his life and his problems. This is the primary purpose of the Outstanding Young Farmer project. This selection of local, state and national outstanding young farmers gives Jaycees an opportunity to focus public attention on agriculture.

Public understanding of the farmer is vital today. The modern farmer is a far cry from yesterday's man of the soil. Farming today is a complex, exacting, huge business. Today's farmer not only produces foodstuffs and the fibers needed by an expanding nation, but must keep his land alive, improve production and conserve his natural resources.

The selections are on the basis of the young farmer's progress, in his career, his conservation and tillage practices and his contributions to his community, with progress counting 50 per cent, conservation 25 per cent and community leadership 25 per cent. The judges are representatives of agri-business, banking, Agriculture Extension Service, Soil Conservation Service, past OYF Award winners, and personnel from radio, press and from publications. The judges are looking for optimistic innovators who have shown initiative, community leadership, and are firmly in control of successful, growing farm business operations.

TO BE eligible for nomination a young farmer must be 20-35 years of age and be an actual farm operator, deriving a minimum of two-thirds of his income from farming. He need not be a Jaycee.

We are fortunate here in Circleville this year to be hosting the State Outstanding Young Farmer Awards

Program. It will be February

14-15 and will feature local farm and industry tours for the participants from all over the state. The highlight will be the selection of Ohio's Outstanding Young Farmer who will go on to the national program in St. Paul, Minnesota April 11-13. These programs provide an excellent opportunity for the participating farmers and Jaycees to exchange ideas and establish life long friendships. It has been the custom on the national level for the four national winners to return each year for the awards program. In the state program the top five are invited back each year. The opportunity of participating with these outstanding couples is a rare and valuable experience.

The National Awards Program is a 3-7 day event highlighted by the selection of four national winners. Participation in this program has been a wonderful experience, not just for the honor of being one of the four, but for the outstanding people we have met and the many close friendships that have developed. We hope to continue attending the National Awards Program and exchanging visits with the many other farm couples from over the country.

The local Jaycees are doing a great service to our agriculture community in sponsoring this program and I urge the Circleville area to give them their utmost cooperation and support.

Activities Of Past Year Are Reviewed

By JAKE BAILEY

The various project chairman of the past year are to be commended for a job well done.

First of all there is Larry Lewis who had the summer picnic on Aug. 24, at the Bill Richard's Farm. Everyone who attended the picnic had a great time.

I would also like to mention Bob Sines, who took care of the Open House at Pumpkin Show. A good time to meet the old and new members of the club.

I, myself, had charge of the annual Christmas Party, held this year at the Pickaway Country Club. It is attended by Jaycees, their wives, and guests. This is also a great opportunity to meet people over cocktails, dinner and dancing. This year Mr. and Mrs. Roger Koch won the centerpiece.

And the biggest event for the year was the fourth annual Jaycee Cox's Memorial Tournament at Upper Lansdowne Golf Links. We had 105 golfers, the largest turnout so far. We gave trophies out in three flights. The winners of the Cox's Memorial was Ron Leatherwood of Ashville. He had a total score of 73 for 18 holes. Everyone in the tournament had lunch and refreshments. The outstanding Jaycee golfer was from Greenfield Robert Cranes who had 74 for the tournament. Other trophies went to Worthington Jaycees for the best foursome.

Training For Thieves

Karachi, Pakistan (AP) — Employment bureaus are commonplace in the sub-continent of India and Pakistan where millions are unemployed. But police here have unearthed an employment bureau for thieves and burglars.

The bureau allegedly trained potential miscreants in breaking safes and locks and allied skills of the trade. Then it found them jobs as house servants with wealthy persons.

4 Branches Of JC Club Explained

There are four branches of the Jaycee structure. The first being the international organization, the United States Jaycees the second, and the state organization, third. The most important and the one which makes the other three possible — the local organization.

We will now attempt to present a short outline of the local organization. The organization is operated by a Board of Directors. It has a president, an internal vice president, and external vice president, a secretary, and treasurer.

The internal vice president is placed in charge of all the committees which have to do with the internal structure of the organization, which in our local covers Chapter Management, Ways and Means and Socials. These three areas are each headed up by a director.

The external vice president is placed in direct charge of all committees which have to do with community, state and U.S. Jaycee projects. In our local, the office is broken down into two portfolios, Youth and Sports and Community Development of which each has a director.

The secretary takes accurate minutes of each meeting and the treasurer works with preparing the annual budget, collecting dues and paying bills.

We also have a liaison between the state organization and the local who is elected by the Board of Directors. All matters relating to amendments for the by-laws and policies are decided by the membership at large.

There are many other fields of activity in which Jaycees take part other than those mentioned here. These are some of the principal ones and the program which your local Jaycees have adopted.

CAIRO (AP) — Without any champagne toast, the Cairo Airport witnessed recently the inauguration of a newly purchased Boeing 77 jet for the United Arab Airlines. Champagne, like all other alcoholic beverages, is forbidden by the Moslem religion.

A turbaned sheikh with flowing robes ascended the swank American-made plane for the first time in his life to recite some verses from the Koran, the Moslem holy book.

The plane, one of three such jets Egypt purchased in the United States, is decorated on the inside with Pharaonic inscriptions.

The other two are expected to arrive within a year.

The plane made its first trip recently, to Jeddah, Saudi Arabia, carrying 13 ministers and other tourist and information officers to make a "small pilgrimage" to Mecca and return the same day.

Are Pigeons Poultry?

EAST LONDON, South Africa (AP) — Are racing pigeons poultry? The city fathers insist they are when kept inside East London's municipal boundaries.

The city has been trying for three years to get A. C. Duff to take out a permit to keep poultry on his property and build pigeon lofts which comply with local specifications for poultry houses. Duff refuses because he "does not keep poultry" and contends the lofts the city wants him to use would harm the health of his racing pigeons.

Duff served with Britain's Imperial Pigeon Service and with the Middle East Pigeon Service in World War II.

The matter is back once more in the hands of a committee.

Youthful Approach Is JC Asset

The broad purposes of the Jaycees, along with its distinctive 21-36 year age limitations, have led to the development of the bold approach to service.

As young men, Jaycees occasionally make mistakes and attempt more than they can finish. More often than not however, they surprise the older leaders of other civic clubs by actually doing what these groups were reluctant to try.

More and more Jaycee chapters are coming to understand that the courage of youth is one of the greatest assets. The reason so many Jaycee chapters embark upon controversial projects, ones which other organizations pass by, is because "Jaycees would rather rock the boat than miss it!"

Jaycees do anything - and everything! At one time or another, somewhere in America, Jaycees have probably done everything imaginable and possible for their communities.

All their work is important, too, whether it is helping one boy find the right road to a useful life or helping a whole state get the most benefit out of tax dollars and mental hospitals. Big chapters or just a few members, large cities and small towns, Jaycees fulfill the needs of their communities. Their only limits are their ideas.

Jaycee chapters have added calculable parks and recreation facilities to their communities, conducted polio immunization clinics, also, many of them recording such impressive results as more than 90 per cent of the citizens immunized.

Jaycees are great ones for assisting worthy charities too. Kids are one of the biggest

Letter To The Editor

We in Circleville are fortunate that we live in a city which has much to offer now, yet continues to try to improve upon its past. One of the leaders in these improvements is the Circleville Jaycees.

Being a member in good standing of a community entails more than just living in it. A member in good standing is one who not only cares about his community but also is willing to work for its continued betterment. The Jaycees have met this challenge and have overcome it.

Circleville can be justly proud of the many fine programs and projects that are made possible by the Jaycees each year. Equally important, but most easily overlooked, is the leadership training that the young men receive in successfully carrying out these various programs and projects.

The city is enhanced by the fine services that are rendered to its people and the individual Jaycee enriched by the experience of successfully fulfilling his task. We all owe the Jaycees a well earned thank you.

I wish them the best of luck and give them my best regards for another successful year.

Pumpkin Show Parade Is Jaycee Project

By LARRY D. LEWIS

The Circleville Jaycees have annually sponsored the Little Miss Pumpkin Show since the year 1952. There were 90 candidates then as compared to 122 this year.

Each school in the county sponsors a first grader for the contest. Businesses and companies in the county also have this privilege.

All contestants receive banners for entering the contest. The winner and the two alternates receive banners and trophies. The three finalists also participate in all other Pumpkin Show parades.

The Jaycees have two TV or radio personalities to judge the contest. The Jaycee State President is always the third judge. Their job is always a hard one and not relished by anyone.

Little Miss Pumpkin Show 1968, is Mindy Poling, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Poling. Her attendants are Mary Pat Sberna, daughter of Mrs. and Mrs. Sam Sberna, and Rebecca Joan Howell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Howell.

The Jaycees are proud to sponsor this contest and each year do their best to serve the contestants and sponsors. The contest not only gives the younger set the joy and excitement of riding in a parade, but may help to teach them competition for this competitive world.

Youthful Approach Is JC Asset

The broad purposes of the Jaycees, along with its distinctive 21-36 year age limitations, have led to the development of the bold approach to service.

As young men, Jaycees occasionally make mistakes and attempt more than they can finish. More often than not however, they surprise the older leaders of other civic clubs by actually doing what these groups were reluctant to try.

More and more Jaycee chapters are coming to understand that the courage of youth is one of the greatest assets. The reason so many Jaycee chapters embark upon controversial projects, ones which other organizations pass by, is because "Jaycees would rather rock the boat than miss it!"

Jaycees do anything and everything! At one time or another, somewhere in America, Jaycees have probably done everything imaginable and possible for their communities.

All their work is important, too, whether it is helping one boy find the right road to a useful life or helping a whole state get the most benefit out of tax dollars and mental hospitals. Big chapters or just a few members, large cities and small towns, Jaycees fulfill the needs of their communities. Their only limits are their ideas.

Jaycee chapters have added calculable parks and recreation facilities to their communities, conducted polio immunization clinics, also, many of them recording such impressive results as more than 90 per cent of the citizens immunized.

Jaycees are great ones for assisting worthy charities too. Kids are one of the biggest

Letter To The Editor

We in Circleville are fortunate that we live in a city which has much to offer now, yet continues to try to improve upon its past. One of the leaders in these improvements is the Circleville Jaycees.

Being a member in good standing of a community entails more than just living in it. A member in good standing is one who not only cares about his community but also is willing to work for its continued betterment. The Jaycees have met this challenge and have overcome it.

Circleville can be justly proud of the many fine programs and projects that are made possible by the Jaycees each year. Equally important, but most easily overlooked, is the leadership training that the young men receive in successfully carrying out these various programs and projects.

The city is enhanced by the fine services that are rendered to its people and the individual Jaycee enriched by the experience of successfully fulfilling his task. We all owe the Jaycees a well earned thank you.

I wish them the best of luck and give them my best regards for another successful year.

Pumpkin Show Parade Is Jaycee Project

By LARRY D. LEWIS

The Circleville Jaycees have annually sponsored the Little Miss Pumpkin Show since the year 1952. There were 90 candidates then as compared to 122 this year.

Each school in the county sponsors a first grader for the contest. Businesses and companies in the county also have this privilege.

All contestants receive banners for entering the contest. The winner and the two

Jaycees Require Active Participation From Members

As in all jobs of purpose, what a member receives from the Jaycees is in direct proportion to the amount of energy he directs toward bettering himself and his community.

This activity, in its basic form, is called committee activity. Committee work forms the springboard from which a member will rise to office in this organization, for it is the heartbeat of the chapter and 5,740 others throughout the United States.

Whether fellowship, civic improvement or developing leadership qualities is the goal, a member has set, he should be prepared to lend his time and brainpower to the organization he represents. He will find within his chapter an area of activity in which he has interest. Civic improvement, working with youth in sports activities, political activities, promoting safety on the highways, profit-making and religious emphasis are many activities from which he may choose. He will find working with other young men and older civic leaders giving him confidence in his own abilities, as each day tackle some task not encountered in his regular job. Committee activity, as he will soon learn, can be one of the most pleasurable and enjoyable phases of the Jaycees. Much can be gained from seeing a job well done.

He belongs to a group of young men who have set standards — high standards. He was asked to become a part of this organization because he is capable of attaining goals left by a legacy of action. One of the foremost obligations he accepted was to attend his regular chapter meetings. Only in this way, can he fully realize the meaning and purpose of our concepts or philosophy.

One of our concepts, "Learning by doing: The Jaycee way" seems to best portray the trigger of our enthusiasm. The chapter is a proving ground for a member's success and, also his failure. But, unlike most organizations, mistakes are taken in stride.

We are all learning, and after a few mistakes — we bounce back with the best, a quality to develop as we go along.

Although ideas and enthusiasm are lauded in the chapter, a look at the officers and directors of the chapter will show men who came up the hard way — winning respect with each stage of their progress. First, as a committeeman, pitching in with others to see a job successfully completed and accepting with eagerness every responsibility hurled their way.

Next, as a sub-chairman of a committee, planning the work with the chairman and laying the groundwork; charting the course of action for the men to follow. Then, as a chairman of a committee, motivating sub-chairman, planning, directing and coordinating the work of others for the purpose of achieving a common goal.

At this stage in his surge up the leadership ladder, a member would be prepared to seek an elective rather than an appointive office — such as the Board of Directors. Here, he could successfully utilize every facet of knowledge he has accumulated through his committee work, practice the skills of communication learned through closely working with his committee members, spell out new proposals as to what should be accomplished, provide for the members of the Board the ultimate aims, or the desired end products of the group's purpose. At this level, he will prepare himself for the administrative posts mounting to the president of his chapter.

Jaycee Week Chairman Is Phil VanMeter

PHIL VANMETER

National Jaycee Week is the one week of the year that Jaycees throughout the country tell the people of the community who they are and what they do. It is very important that the community understand the activities and purpose of the Jaycees, for its only with the support of our community that we are able to accomplish our projects.

This year's chairman of Jaycee Week is Phil VanMeter, an employee of General Telephone Co.

The local Jaycee organization is made up of young men between 21 through 35 years of age. These young men participate in various activities during the year that are designed to improve the community and to develop leadership qualities in the individual.

All of the Circleville Jaycees would like to take this opportunity to extend an invitation to the young men of our community to join the Jaycees and to participate with us in projects to make Circleville a better place to live.

Any young man interested in becoming a Jaycee may do so by contacting any Circleville Jaycee.

The story of the birth, growth—and development of the United States Jaycees is a long and brilliant one.

In 1914, in St. Louis, Mo., Henry Giessenbier was an ambitious 22-year-old bank employee and president of a federation of dancing clubs. This federation was formed when Henry joined his own social group the Herkulaneum—with several similar organizations. To spice the meetings of the federation speakers often appeared discussing the vital topics of the day. One speaker, Colonel H. N. Morgan, fired the boys to action after delivering a talk on the value of a central parkway for St. Louis. As a result Giessenbier and 31 young men founded the Young Men's Progressive Civic Association on October 13, 1915, at the Mission Inn—birthplace of the Jaycee movement.

By 1918, the organization was known as the St. Louis Junior Chamber of Commerce and the fame of its work was beginning to become known. After World War I, the St. Louis group was besieged with requests on just how to start similar Jaycee chapters. As a result, Giessenbier decided to form a national organization, and at a caucus in January of 1920, the

Headpin Tourney Is 3 Years Old

By DICK BIRCHER

The Headpin Tournament has been a yearly project of the Jaycees Ways and Means Committee for the past three years.

The tournament's co-chairmen this year were Steve Jones and Richard Bircher. The project netted approximately $150 to help pay for the many service projects the Jaycees sponsor throughout the year.

There were seven events in women and Scotch Doubles were awarded cash prizes for just second and third place. Winning in the men's division this year were Bill Hammond, first; Emmitt Dade, second; and Bob Johnson third.

Receiving honors for the women were Jean Crider, first; Sally Ebert, second; and Betty Neff, third. The Scotch Doubles were won by Mike and Katie Brown with Dave and Marge Olney second and Betty and Gale Seymour, third.

Trophies were awarded in the Junior and Bantam divisions for girls and boys to first and second place. Pat Highland coping the honors for the Junior Boys with Eddie Wells coming in second. The Junior Girls was won by Helen Ebbrecht, Brenda Hollar was awarded second place. In the Bantam Boys division Dave Truex came in first and Dana Carley was second. And finally in the Bantam Girls Susan Ebert was first and Cindy Mathews, second.

Spring Dance Is Jaycee Social Event

The annual Jaycee Spring Dance was held on April 20, 1968 at the Pickaway County Fairground Coliseum.

The dance, an invitational dance with the proceeds going to local charities, was attended by approximately 155 people. Music was provided by Luther Bolen and his orchestra.

Guild number 45 of the Berger Hospital had charge of all concessions. They provided food, snacks and mixes for an enjoyable evening.

Members of the committee were Dick Hall, chairman, Asa Elsea, Terry Sloan, Ron James, and Jim and Penny Buob.

Short On Electric Power Supply

NEW DELHI (AP) — Not even one-tenth of India's villages are electrified.

K. L. Rao, minister for irrigation and power, told Parliament that 62,237 villages were electrified up to March 1968. India has 650,000 villages where nearly 85 per cent of its 530 million people live.

Rao said 71,000 more villages will be electrified during the fourth five-year-plan (1969-74).

Effective Course

NEW DELHI (AP) — Many Indian girls study home science in colleges as a passport to early marriage. Education Minister Triguna Sen complained to a gathering of women students.

This was proved by the fact that many left the course in the middle — to get married — he added.

The tournament's co-chairmen this year were Leve Jones and Richard Bircher. The project netted approximately $150 to help pay for the many service projects the Jaycees sponsor throughout the year.

There were seven events in women and Scotch Doubles were awarded cash prizes for just second and third place. Winning in the men's division this year were Bill Hammond, first; Emmitt Dade, second; and Bob Johnson third.

Receiving honors for the women were Jean Crider, first; Sally Ebert, second; and Betty Neff, third. The Scotch Doubles were won by Mike and Katie Brown with Dave and Marce Olney second and Betty and U.S. Jaycee organization was born.

Giessenbier the founder, also had the honor of being the first U. S. Jaycee president. The new organization began with chapters in just 12 cities. It had its troubles in the 1920's and early 1930's but was still one of the fastest growing groups in the country. The vital work at the local level, plus national influence and projects in fields such as aviation and "get-out-the vote," gained for the Jaycees a large measure of respect.

THE Jaycees were becoming very strong when World War II broke out. Then they had to battle for their existence during the war years, as 85 per cent of all members left for military service. The boom followed the war, though, and today there are some 5,700 locals with a membership total of about 285,000. The United States Jaycees which had no home city for its headquarters until 1935, now operates from the ultra-modern War Memorial building Tulsa, Oklahoma. Dedicated in 1952 — to the Jaycees who gave their lives for American in World War II.

Gale Seymour, third.

Trophies were awarded in the Junior and Bantam divisions for girls and boys to first and second place. Pat Highland coping the honors for the Junior Boys with Eddie Wells coming in second. The Junior Girls was won by Helen Ebbrecht, Brenda Hollar was awarded second place. In the Bantam Boys division Dave Truex came in first and Dana Carley was second. And finally in the Bantam Girls Susan Ebert was first and Cindy Mathews, second.

Spring Dance Is Jaycee Social Event

The annual Jaycee Spring Dance was held on April 20, 1968 at the Pickaway County Fairground Coliseum.

The dance, an invitational dance with the proceeds going to local charities, was attended by approximately 155 people. Music was provided by Luther Bolen and his orchestra.

Guild number 45 of the Berger Hospital had charge of all concessions. They provided food, snacks and mixes for an enjoyable evening.

Members of the committee were Dick Hall, chairman, Asa Elsea, Terry Sloan, Ron James, and Jim and Penny Buob.

Short On Electric Power Supply

NEW DELHI (AP) — Not even one-tenth of India's villages are electrified.

K. L. Rao, minister for irrigation and power, told Parliament that 62,237 villages were electrified up to March 1968. India has 650,000 villages where nearly 85 per cent of its 530 million people live.

Rao said 71,000 more villages will be electrified during the fourth five-year-plan (1969-74).

Effective Course

NEW DELHI (AP) — Many Indian girls study home science in colleges as a passport to early marriage, Education Minister Triguna Sen complained to a gathering of women students.

This was proved by the fact that many left the course in the middle — to get married — he added.

Internal Awards Of Club Given Throughout Year

By ASA ELSEA

The internal awards given to Jaycees for outstanding contribution to the organization are as follows: Jaycee of the Quarter, Director of the Quarter, Jaycee of the Year, Key man award, spoke award, sparkplug award, and speak-up award.

The Jaycee of the Quarter is selected through an accumulation of points which any Jaycee member has the opportunity of compiling. It is given four times every year, once each quarter. These points are compiled by attending meetings, working on projects, participation in local governmental affairs, bringing new members into the organization; and filing reports on projects which have been chairmen or committee men.

The Jaycee of The Year is based on the above program with the exception it is given only once each year to the Jaycee with the greatest total point accumulation.

Director of the Quarter is an award given four times a year to the local director who has lead his team to the greatest number of points. Each director is responsible for a certain number of members, seeing that they know when the meetings are, and what projects are being worked on. Then his individual team members points are added, along with his own and the director with the greatest total point accumulation wins the award.

Director of the Year is an award given once each year to the director who has compiled the greatest number of points through the above program.

Key man award is the presentation of an award to a local member for outstanding contribution as a Jaycee to his community, club, and self. It is chosen exclusively by the President.

The spoke award is an award given to a freshman Jaycee who has accumulated 100 points or more by accomplishing certain duties as a new member. Some of the objects are bringing a new member, chairing projects, working on projects, attending local governmental affairs, and giving oral reports to the club.

This award can be won by every Jaycee in his first year of active service. After his first full year he then is eligible for the sparkplug award.

The sparkplug award is based on the same duties as the spoke; and a Jaycee can win this award every year until he is ineligible to be a member.

The speak-up award is given to the Jaycee member who participates in a five minute speak-up speech before the organization on any subject of his choice. The best speaker is selected each year out of those who have given speeches and is sent to the district contest.

The Circleville Jaycees are proud of these awards and the contribution which they make to our community leaders. We feel it is an ever ending challenge to create and build a better community for a better tomorrow.

Power Of Inertia

HONOLULU (AP) — The practice of disinfecting letters to prevent the spread of disease finally has been halted in Hawaii.

The fumigation of letters — by a formaldehyde mist — has been discontinued at the Kalaupapa leprosy settlement on Moikakai Island and at the Hale Mohalu Hansen's Disease Hospital near Honolulu.

A spokesman for the state health department noted it "is nearly impossible to stop a practice like that (letter disinfection) once it is started. Nobody wants to be responsible for change, no matter how outdated something may be."

The halting of the practice in Hawaii came decades after the discovery of the leprosy bacillus by a Norwegian scientist and by the subsequent discovery that Hansen's disease can be transmitted only by skin-to-skin contact.

Dial For Data

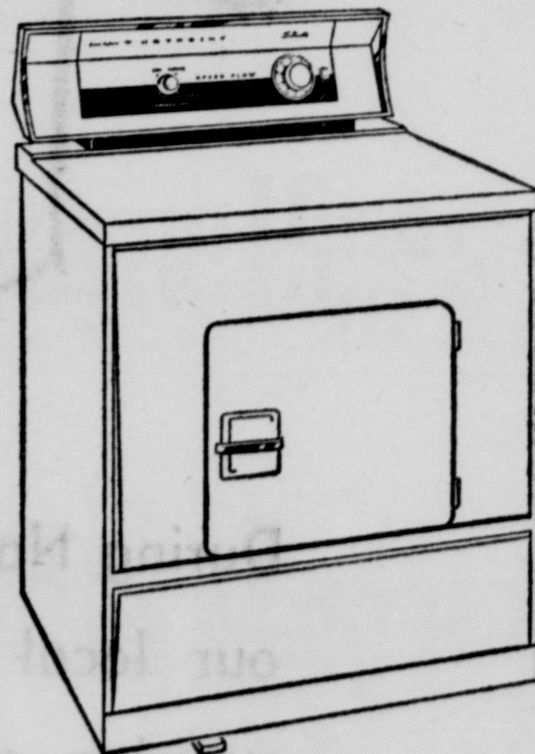

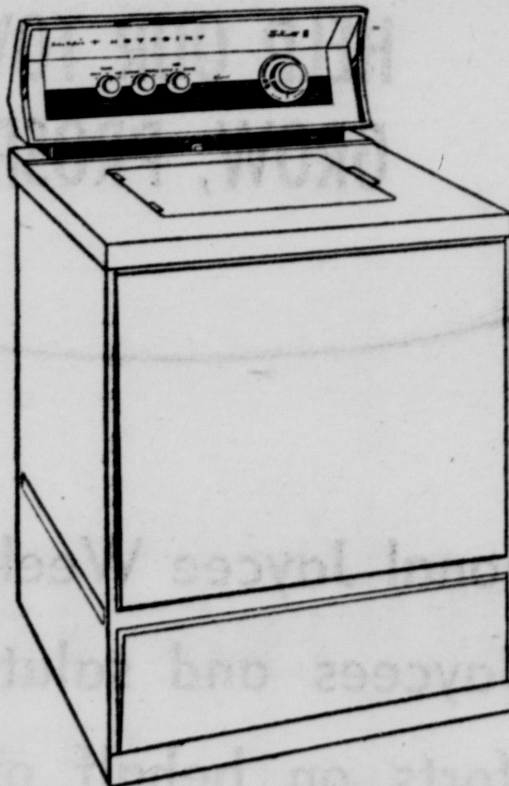

BISMARCK, N.D. (AP) — It now is possible for doctors in North Dakota hamlets to receive free medical lectures from specialists just by dialing a telephone number.

Doctors in need of some quick medical advice merely make a toll-free long distance call to a 24-hour service operating through the University of Wisconsin and Marquette School of Medicine.

The caller dials the medical library at Madison, Wis., and receives a terse, five to six-minute lecture via prerecorded tapes on the subject that concerns him.

It's designed primarily for areas that do not have access to good medical libraries or where good consultants are not available," said Dr. C. H. Peters of Bismarck, president of the North Dakota Medical Association.

Jaycee Purpose: Leadership, Community Development

The purpose of the Jaycees is community development and leadership training.

First, community development. The typical Jaycee approach to community problems is usually more action-oriented than that of other organizations. Many of the civic clubs have gained the reputation of luncheon groups because most of their concern is with attending meetings and hearing speakers. Projects — and extremely worthwhile ones — are naturally conducted.

A Jaycee chapter which spots a need for a playground in its city will not be satisfied with pointing out the need to elected leaders. It will, if necessary, work thousands of hours to put in the facility itself. Without disputing the need for discussion and planning, Jaycees realize that you've got to start work by rolling up sleeves.

The second important aim of the Jaycees is leadership training. In the Jaycees, a young man is given an opportunity to extend his formal education which was relatively completed when he graduated from high school or college into the broader field of civic leadership. "Jaycees don't build communities, they build the men who build communities."

Until this organization had its founding, a young man had no opportunity to develop his ability along this line in the company of his contemporaries. Active participation in the Jaycees gives him confidence, stature, public speaking ability and all of the many other attributes which point to a leader in business and community life. There are countless cases of the ability of young men, the pages of history are filled with their achievements. Washington was a Colonel in the Virginia Army when he was 19; William Pitt was Prime Minister of Great Britain when he was 24; Napoleon was emperor of France when he was 33; McCormick had invented the reaper and Westinghouse the air brake by the time they were 23; Shakespeare had written 10 of his greatest plays at 32; Sir Isaac Newton discovered the law of gravitation when he was 24; Alexander Hamilton was Secretary of the Treasury when he was 32; and the average age of the first Continental Congress of the United States was slightly under 34 years of age.

Energy, enthusiasm and willingness to try more things, plus the attributes of virile young manhood will truly accomplish miracles.

CHICAGO (AP) — Early tire chain sales in the Midwest may indicate there's more rough winter ahead.

Roy G. Oliver, chairman of the S. G. Taylor Chain Co., Hammond, Ind., said sales of chains to dealers and distributors are running ahead of normal.

He attributes the interest in tire chains to the fact that motorists have experienced severe snow and ice conditions in various parts of the country the last couple of winters.

"So dealers now apparently figuring old fashioned winters are on the way back and they want to be ready for another bonanza for tire chains," Oliver said.

Elsea Creates PR Department

For the first time in the history of the Circleville Jaycees, president Asa Elsea created the public relations department. Elsea appointed H.H. Shuttleworth as head of the department.

The duties and purpose of public relations are two fold, external and internal.

The external duties are to maintain a liaison between the local chapter projects and the news media. Also, to provide the project chairman with an outline to follow and to assist him in both present and past news releases.

The internal duties include informing members of internal affairs and to communicate with other local Jaycee chapters concerning project activities. To provide news releases when new members are inducted. To communicate news worthy articles to state and national magazines and to assist the local president with publicity, upon his request. The P.R. department is also in charge of the local owned camera.

Jaycee Wives Is Active Group

By JUDY HATFIELD

The first meeting of the Jaycee Wives Club was held Monday Jan. 12, 1953 in the Jaycee club rooms. Since then, the wives have met once a month other than for two months in the summer.

The 1968-69 club has 20 members. Current officers are president Mrs. Wayne Hatfield; vice president, Mrs. Asa Elsea; recording and corresponding secretary, Mrs. Archie Ward; treasurer, Mrs. Jake Bailey.

Aim of the club is to promote a feeling of friendship and good will among the Jaycee wives and to aid the Jaycees in their projects when aid has been requested.

Women meet the first Wednesday of the month in the homes of members. Many interesting speakers have been heard. A representative from Merle Norman and the Gas Co. will give demonstrations in the months to come.

THIS year the wives made Pumpkin Show beanies and sold them at Pumpkin Show for a very successful ways and means project. Also this year the wives have compiled a cookbook of favorite recipes which they will sell to their friends and relatives.

Annually all Jaycee Wives prepare food for the golfers at the Cox Memorial Golf Tournament held each September. They also provide refreshments for the Jaycee Open House held during Pumpkin Show each year.

The Wives Club is currently planning a Founder's Day Dessert in February and election of officers in May. The new president starts her duties in July of the year.

LUCKNOW, India (AP) — Maharishi Mahesh Yogi may not be a prophet, but is certainly without honor in his own country — even in his own state.

The Beatles' onetime mentor was ragged by the students and professors of Lucknow University while peddling transcendental meditation.

An irate professor asked whether transcendental meditation's secret was so esoteric that His Holiness could not reveal it to an educated audience.

Another teacher asked if it was true that Mahesh was an agent of a foreign power. "Ask the government," the smiling Yogi replied.

A girl shouted why His Holiness needed air conditioned rooms to preach his message and why he stayed with maharajas and tycoons in five-star hotels.

"Lord Krishna, the first yogi did not need all these," another girl added.

Teen-age Rodeo was held at Big Bear parking lot on June 2, 1968, under the direction of the local Junior Chamber of Commerce.

The Rodeo is held to promote driving safety and road safety with an automobile. With months of planning, P. J. Ranck of OSP, Paul Dean, chairman and other Jaycees, went to all the high schools in the county to get contestants. This was open to all High School students to their 19th birthday.

The test was in three parts; a written test, a skill test, and an over the road test. The winner of this year's Rodeo was Laura Whaley, 16, Circleville High School student and Gary Pife, 18, a student of Teays Valley High School.

They were the boy and girl winner in Jaycees Annual Safe-Driving Auto Rodeo local contest and they went to State Rodeo, which was held on June 8, 1968.

Sale Of Christmas Trees Requires Early Planning

By RON JONES

The Christmas tree sale is an annual Ways and Means project with the profits used to help

New Mexico Pecans

LAS CRUCES, N.M. (AP)—The New Mexico Farm and Ranch Magazine predicts pecan raising will become a major crop in southern New Mexico in the next two years.

The magazine says there are about 4,200 acres of pecan trees in Dona Ana County and from these trees an estimated 12 million pounds of nuts are expected this season.

On the basis of new plantings, growers by 1970 expect from 7,200 to 7,500 acres of pecan trees.

One grower, Stahmann Farms, near Las Cruces, already has about 200,000 trees on 4,000 acres.

finance various community service projects by the Jaycees.

Planning of this project usually begins during the month of August by selecting a source for the trees. This year the trees were purchased from a farm near Newark, Ohio. On Sept. 14, a committee of four Jaycees traveled to Newark and selected the trees to be purchased this year. This is done by going into the woods and placing a tag on the trees.

The tagged trees are cut by the owner early in November and are made ready to be picked up by the Jaycees late in November.

Through the courtesy and cooperation of the local Big Bear Supermarket, the sales lot was located in their north parking area.

ON DEC. 1, eleven local Jaycees traveled to Newark to pick up the trees. This is an all day excursion with a cook-out, the feature attraction of the PORTS SHEPSTONE, South Africa (AP) — Passers-by in this coastal Natal province town gaped as an African tribesman marched up to the local hospital with a spear sticking through his chest.

A lorry driver who stopped to assist him said the African had walked more than ten miles with the spear protruding from the right side of his chest after being wounded in a fight with a neighbor over a cattle dispute.

"It is fantastic how he stood the pain. He did not seem at all perturbed," the lorry driver said.

day. Because of the larger size of the trees this year, a second trip was needed to transport the trees here.

The lot was opened for business on Dec. 6, and selling was done by a large percentage of the Jaycee membership.

During the hours when Jaycee members were unable to work, customers were permitted to select a tree and pay a cashier at the Big Bear Store.

A total of more than 250 man hours were needed to complete the project.

Plans have already begun for improving the project for next year. It is planned that the Jaycees will cut the trees, giving the residents of the Circleville area a higher quality tree at the same "popular price."
